Recruiting in the Seceded States.

Our morning dispatches bring us information that Governor Seymour of New York, has decided not to send state agents into the seceded states for the purpose of recruiting, but where counties raise bounties and wish to send agents, he will do whatever he can to aid them. This is precisely what might have been expected of Governor S., and is perfectly consistent with his former career and principles as a first class copperhead. The man who proposed "to pause" in his efforts to put down a rebellion that was clutching for the throat of the nation until he could determine the minute details of the policy of the Administration in regard to carrying on this war, and whose sympathies are clearly enlisted on the side of the rebels, cannot be expected to do more than the "law allows" to embarrass his Southern "friends." No doubt the Governor thinks it would be incompatable with his theory of State rights which he has been trying to put in practice upon General Dix with indifferent success, if he should authorize the quota of troops to be filled, wholly or in part, by the residents of another state. How could Governor Seymour look Governor Letcher, or Governor Vance, or Governor Bramlette in the face again if he should permit such an infraction of the doctrine of state sovereignty as he and they believe in? Such a proceeding would compromise Mr. Seymour as the representative of the great copperhead party of the State of New York, and the plea that Congress had authorized it, would be insufficient to screen him from the wrath to come. What would the World and the Woods and the Rynders and the McCuns say if a course should be pursued whereby men in the insurgent States should be induced to enter the Union army when, if left to themselves, they might enlist under the negro-murdering banner of Jeff. Davis?

Another point: The law allows men of color to be taken as substitutes, and here comes up for recognition that horrible doctrine of the equality of the races in all its naked and repulsive deformity! What if Governor Seymour's son should be drafted, and the son, having a wholesome fear of rebel bullets before his eyes, should hire an American citizen of African descent to represent him at the front, for a certain sum of money agreed upon; wouldn't the "nigger" be equal to the white man, although the white man might be the son of Governor Seymour of New York? No wonder the tender-hearted and aristocratic father turns from this view of the case with a shudder of ineffable loathing. Think of it, a "nigger" in the very shoes of a white man, and that man a Governor's son!!

Or look again: What if the State of New York should send an agent into the insurgent states and enlist a colored man who might go as a substitute for one of the Celtic "friends" of Seymour who amused himself about a year ago, in murdering "nagurs" in cold blood in the streets of New York, and in setting fire to asylums for colored orphan children; thus elevating to the dignity (?) of a drunken ward politician and a murderer who can vote, a respectable, inoffensive and peaceable colored man.

Is it any wonder that Seymour shrinks from being made a party to this black Republican trick to elevate the negro at the expense of the white man? Nay verily. Better lay his own darling son dead in the rifle pits in front of Petersburg—better strip the Five Points of every pimp who votes the copperhead ticket—better suffer the overthrow of the Republic itself, than to do anything directly or indirectly that will have the slightest tendency to recognize the possibility of the colored man's manhood. Let men be consistent though they, as well as the heavens, fall, and if any one has such a high appreciation of the worth and dignity of the rebels that they think it disgraceful to have them shot by their former slaves, let him draw on his patent leather boots and white kid gloves and put the rebels out of the way in a gentlemanly and "constitutional" manner.

JAMES S. THORNTON, the lieutenant commander of the Kearsage, which destroyed the Alabama, is a resident of Hartford, Ct. A short time before the Alabama left the harbor of Cherbourg, this officer left his own craft, and disguising himself in a French blouse and the general apparel and appearance of a French citizen, he succeeded in gaining admission on board the rebel vessel, and examined fully every part of her, taking notes of her machinery, armament, &c. The result was that Commander Winslow, of the Kearsage, resolved that he could and would sink the rebel whenever she came out, and he did.

BEST SORT.—The buxom bright-eyed, full chested, bouncing lass—who can darn a stocking, mend trousers, make her own frock, command a regiment of pots and kettles, feed the pigs, milk the cows, and be a lady with all in company—is just the sort of a girl for a man to marry; but you, yo pining, lolling, screwed up, wasp-waisted, doll-dressed, putty-faced, consumption mortgaged, time-wasting, novel-devouring daughters of fashion and idleness—you are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens.—Nevada Transcript.

Review of the Rebel Raid.

[From the N. Y. Times]

I.

The siege of Washington, not quite so long in duration as the siege of Troy, and hardly as glorious as Derry or Saragossa, has been at length raised, and there is now a restoration of communication with you of the outside world, whose fears and anxieties regarding the fate of the Capitol we have been able to imagine. This morning it was found that the enemy had withdrawn from in front of the defences of Washington, and though they still show pickets at Bladensburg and on the railroad, there is good reason to believe that their main force is marching toward the Potomac, to make good their retreat with all the loot that a week of uninterrupted plunder has afforded them.

II.

It is too early for us yet to make up our minds whether we ought to laugh over the denouement of an affair more farcical than tragical, or whether we should feel a devout thankfullness for a great deliverance. There is enough that is droll to justify the former, were it not checked by the reflection of how much there is mortifying and humiliating in the circumstances of this rebel raid. A great army is planted before the lines at Petersburg, where the vital interests of the war centre; but the rebels, by a movement of matchless boldness, are able for a time to transfer the seat of war to the north of the Potomac, are permitted to roam through and ravage a loyal State, and are able finally to throw the capital of the nation into a siege, and inspire others than the faint-hearted with fears and forebodings for its safety.

Now that it is over one can speak with more freedom than was erewhile allowable, and hence it is not improper to confess that Washington has for two or three days past been more really "invested" than Richmond ever has been. It is true the Potomac River, a great natural line of communications, has been open to us; but our direct and customary communications with the North and West have been, and now remain severed; and this not merely by the damage done by the mounted raiders, but by the fact that the enemy placed himself on our communications, which, I believe, is more than Gen. Grant has yet done with respect to the communications of Richmond. Never yet, in all their invasions, have the rebels attempted anything so bold, and although there can be no doubt that Washington has before been in far more real danger of capture than at any time during this late affair, yet never before have the rebels been able to make the capital seem to be in so much danger; and for the first time they have won the eclat—whatever this may be worth—of an actual investment of the defences of Washington. Cheap glory, but they will, no doubt, make the best of it.

Three opportunities the rebels have had of capturing Washington; the first was immediately after Bull Run, the second was after the defeat of Pope, and the third is the present occasion. But the latter they lost before even they reached the front of Washington. Had they concentrated and marched directly on to Washington, without waiting for plunder, there is no telling what might have been the result of a vigorous blow; but when they arrived it was already too late. Washington was safe, not only in its circle of fortifications, but in the veteran defenders that stood behind them.

III.

But this, and all other questions arising out of the raid, depend for their determination on the one capital point as to the design of the rebels in the movement into Maryland. And this again reduces itself to a single alternative. Had the invasion a strictly military aim, or was it undertaken for the purpose of plunder, together with such incidental military advantages as might be gained? Although from present appearances, there is very little to indicate that the rebels entertained the former design, and almost everything to indicate that limited their ambition to the latter, yet there was much, even as late as yesterday, to lead to the conclusion that they were aiming at nothing short of a transfer of the war to the soil of the loyal States, and the capture of the capital. The force in Maryland was estimated even by military heads, at nothing less than thirty thousand men, while it was asserted that another column, consisting of the whole of Longstreet's corps, was on its way up from Gordonsville. This view of the matter was taken by the Washington Star of Monday when that journal made the following declaration:

"The rebel army of invasion marched down the Valley, 45,000 strong, including 8,000 cavalry, under command of Maj-Gen Tubal Early and Brig-Gens. Breckenridge Ransom, Imboden and McCausland. Longstreet was at Gordonsville on Tuesday last, with additional forces to join the rebel army of invasion, and the purpose of that army was an attempt at the capture of Washington by a surprise. The Virginia Central Railroad is repaired, and running from Richmond to Staunton."

The theory of a column of rebel reinforcements moving up from Gordonsville seemed, moreover, to acquire the weight of fact by the testimony of a Union scout who yesterday averred to Secretary Stanton that he had the previous night slept in Longstreet's camp, and that his forces were encamped near Manassas Junction.

Now if these estimates could be taken as reliable, they would seem to indicate, on the part of Lee, the most serious designs. It was reckoned that there was already in Maryland the command of Breckinridge (two divisions,) the whole of Ewell' old corps under command of Gen. Early, while at least two brigades of Hill's corps were understood to have been withdrawn from Grant's front more than a fortnight before. These with the superaddition of Longstreet's command, would constitute a force much too formidable for a mere raiding party, while it would be fair to infer that the detachment of so large a portion of Lee's army from in front of the Union force would indicate a purpose on the part of the rebel Gen. of giving up Petersburg and even Richmond. I am one of those who have always held the opinion that when the worst came to the worst with Lee—when he should feel it impossible much longer to hold on to Richmond—he would play the last remaining card—attempt to exchange the rebel capital for the capital of the United States. And though it has generally been accepted that a movement on Washington by the rebels, with the Union army observing them so closely as it now does, would be nothing short of madness, and must result in their utter destruction, yet the success that has attended the present invading column, the secrecy with which the movement was conducted, and their nearness to clutching even the highest prize itself, suggest the prudence of modifying somewhat the certainty of the dictum that the rebels never could move on Washington with the Union army watching them.

IV.

But the movements of the rebels, and the nature of their operations, are against the presumption that any such ambitious project fired them in the present invasion. And first of all, there is no evidence whatever that this force reaches anything like the strength attributed to it by the affrighted souls of terror-striken fugitives, who have been the authors of most of the swelling numbers that have been given out. It has, in fact, been one of the greatest misfortunes arising out of the inefficiency of the Generals who up to the time the rebels arrived before Washington, were intrusted with the duties of checking their advance, that we have no estimate even approximately reliable of the enemy's strength. Sigel, who held the door of the valley through which the rebels, as on the occasion of both their previous invasions, entered the dominion of the loyal states, had his troops so faultily disposed that he was not even aware of the approach of the enemy, and he was never afterward willing to get near enough to them to learn their numbers. Gen. Wallace, who met the enemy in the chief engagement they have delivered on the soil of Maryland, put them at twenty thousand men: but this, again, is simple conjecture. It is true that the reports of the rebel prisoners themselves have all assigned a great figure to the column of invasion, putting it invariably at forty thousand at least, and claiming re-enforcements as coming. But there is the very best reason to believe that these fellows lie either willingly or unwittingly—either because they are told to do so, or because they know no better. One of these statements, I confess, for a moment staggered me. A rebel Lieutenant, mortally wounded, called, in his faintness, for some water or brandy. Some of the latter was given him, and he then, with great solemnity and conscious of his moribund state, averred that the Confederate force which had fought Wallace at Monocacy numbered twenty thousand men—that this was but one half their force, the remaining half having diverged on another road, and that an additional column of forty thousand men under Gen. Lee was on its way up to join the force then in Maryland. Whether or not he believed what he said I know not; if he was guilty of perjury in his dying hour, his soul has already answered for it.

Another fact which militates against the hypothesis that the rebels aimed at the capture of Washington, is the extraordinary degree to which their forces have been scattered. A force distributing itself from Harper's Ferry to Bladensburg and Baltimore, may be well calculated for raking into its drag-net all the spoils of the country, and inflicting the most extensive possible damage; but for effective military blows concentration is of course, absolutely essential. It does not appear that the rebels were ever really concentrated, although it is not improbable that the major portion of their force massed at Monocacy, and perhaps, also, they had a good part of it before Washington. In the latter case, we are again conducted to the belief that their force was inconsiderable. They yesterday made a respectable show in front of Fort Stevens and Fort Lincoln; but certainly nothing more than a moderately heavy skirmish line—no line of battle, no such masses of men as were conjured up by lively imaginations at the front, out of "colums of dust." I should think that twelve or fifteen thousand must have included the whole rebel force in Maryland.

Finally, in evidence that the enemy was not prepared for any serious attack on Washington, the weightiest circumstance of all is, that they made none whatever. The numerous little spirits of fight they have shown have been of the most feeble kind—only the encounter of last evening reaching the proportions of a respectable picket fight. Without doubt they would have been willing, had they found the opportunity—had they found Washington defenceless—to have entered, sacked and burned it, and their expedition in this direction was probably a reconnoissance to see what the chances were. They did not find them promising, and after this they appear to have confined their efforts to keeping our large force cooped up in Washington, while the rest of the band devoted themselves to an extended system of pillage. They found they could do this, and throw our overwhelming numbers into a defensive attitude, and this was no doubt glory enough!

What the rebels actually accomplished may be summed as follows:

1. They established, for a time, a base of supplies for Lee's army in Maryland.—There can be no doubt that they have been only too successful in the capture of stores, cattle, horses, &c., which they have made. In this part of their programme they have probably been as successful as they could have hoped. If one could look down the highways of Virginia, he could see filing adown them long trains filled with the spolia opima of this raiding campaign in Maryland.

2. By cutting the railroad communications leading into Baltimore and Washington, and drawing their forces up imprudently before the defences of the city, they won the prestige of having for the time being thrown the capital of the nation into a species of siege. The fact of the real hollowness of this triumph will not prevent its being taken abroad for a very significant demonstration of our weakness.

3. By the fact of the invasion they will probably gain, furthermore, the credit of having shown that while we are besieging the rebel capital we are unable to protect our own soil. This also is, of course, nothing more than specious, but it will be accepted as Gospel by our enemies at home and abroad.

4. They have produced a great scare throughout all the country covered by their operations, and far beyond. I should except from this Washington City, which has throughout maintained a certain dignified composure; but from Martinsburg, Hagerstown and Harper's Ferry to Baltimore and even north of that, they have spread terror wherever they or the report of them has gone. In Baltimore especially, the exhibitions have been pitiful.—There is no evidence that the city has ever been threatened by anything more than a cavalry party, and a small one at that. And yet this squad of men has been able to coop up a force strong enough to chew up the rebels, or ten times their number, body and boots, while they have devoted themselves to burning houses in the suburbs, and have even captured parties of our men within the limits of the city.

5. They have been able to relieve their lines in front of Petersburg, for a brief period at least, from the pressure of a goodly number of Grant's army.

6. They have given a practical demonstration of one of the standing dangers of putting our army out of the position to cover Washington, [as it is before Petersburg,] namely, that the enemy can, by a vigorous feint toward the Capital, throw the whole country into alarm respecting its safety. This is a dangerous state of facts, for it induces a pressure which it becomes difficult for any Executive to withstand.

VI

The movements of the rebels from Monocacy, where they were last Saturday, do not appear to have been dictated by any other considerations than those already enumerated. Gen. Wallace did right in making a fight at Monocacy, for it is the point of divergence of the roads leading both to Baltimore and to Washington.—Had he been able to hold this point and repulse the rebels they never could have gotten any further, and must have sought to make their way across the Potomac.—But whether from the indequate quantity of his troops, or for other causes, he was unfortunately, not able to do so.

The division of the Sixth Corps which had arrived to his aid, and which held the left of the railroad, fought with their usual style; but Tyler's troops, (most one hundred days' men,) on the right could not be held, and broke in disorder. This opened the road to the enemy. The rebels, on this, seemed to have moved with most of their force directly toward Washington, avoiding Baltimore altogether. They marched by the straight route to Washington, namely, the Georgetown pike, leading from Monocacy Junction, through Rockville to Washington. On Saturday night their advance reached Rockville, fourteen miles from this point. Here they bivouacked. On Monday morning, a cavalry force under Col. Lowell, was thrown out to feel the enemy, and skirmishing followed near Tennallytown, beyond which, however, they were held at bay. This point forms the left of our line.

During the forenoon, large clouds of dust, rising beyond the rebel kirmish line, gave evidence of the movement of considerable bodies of rebel troops. In confirmation of this, it was soon discovered that the enemy, diverging from Rockville, were moving round toward our right. In fact at this point of the line, in front of Fort Stevens, formerly Fort Massachusetts, a considerable force of rebel cavalry showed themselves Monday morning. The point at which they appeared was in the neighborhood of Silver Springs, old Francis P. Blair's residence, just over the District line in Montgomery County, on the Seventh Street road and just beyond the lines of our fortifications. Here skirmishing was kept up during the morning, and at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon it became somewhat severe, the rebel sharpshooters, under cover of the houses in the vicinity, having advanced to within 30 or 40 rods of the fort.

In course of the afternoon the rebel infantry began arriving in front of Fort Stevens, where they soon showed a strong line. In consequence of his maneuvre on the part of the enemy, the Sixth Corps, which had just arrived and has been destined to take position on the left of our line, were transferred to Fort Stevens. It had been expected from the menacing movements of the enemy at this point on Monday evening, that an assault would be attempted early the following morning, but nothing but skirmishing has occurred.

In fact it was already too late for the rebels to attempt anything. In addition to the two divisions of the Sixth Corps, the Nineteenth Corps, which had been ordered up from New Orleans, and had opportunely arrived in the James River, was diverted from its intended point; was shipped without transfer directly to Washington, where it was put under the efficient control of Gen. Gilmore. After this no one of sound nerves had the slightest apprehension for the safety of the Capitol.

During yesterday nothing occurred except skirmishing, which, toward six in the afternoon, became quite severe. Bidwell's brigade of the Second Division, Sixth Corps, and a portion of Wheaton's brigade, engaged the enemy and drove him for upward of a mile, with a loss to us of nearly 300 men. The enemy's loss must have been full as great, as he left eleven officers and ninety men, too severely wounded to take away, at the residence of F. P. Blair, Jr.

This little affair was sufficient to bring the rebels to a determination. This was to retreat. It was expected that they would do so during the night, and the reconnoissance of this morning showed that they had withdrawn. It is expected that they will cross at Edward's Ferry, though there are those who conceive that the rebels may take advantage of their interior line to deal a blow at Hunter by the way.

VII

This abruptly ends this boldest, and probably most successful of all the rebel raids. There is much in the whole affair that time alone can clear up. It is too early yet for a verdict. That "some one has blundered," is obvious; but who he is must be left for time to disclose.

Janesville Weekly Gazette.

TERMS PER YEAR, - - - $2,00.
IN ADVANCE.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is now the largest paper printed in the State, and having the matter published in the DAILY to select from, we challenge comparison with any newspaper in Wisconsin. In correct political doctrine, in reliable market reports, in giving the latest news from all quarters, in literary merit and in local information relating to this city and county, we shall spare no pains to make the WEEKLY GAZETTE worthy of public patronage and support.

THE NEWS

Our last night's dispatches from Harrisburg, bring us the gratifying intelligence (if true) that Gen. Crook has overtaken and punished the raiding rebels near Snicker's Gap, capturing 300 heavily loaded wagons.

It is said that Sherman has sent Gen. Stoneman, with a force 16,000 strong, to Macon in order to release the Union prisoners now confined there.

The Tribune says we have upwards of 60,000 rebel prisoners now in our hands.

Eighteen insane women were killed by the falling of a building in Philadelphia yesterday.

Four thousand acres of woodland has been destroyed by fire on Long Island.

Our forenoon dispatches bring us the highly important information from Niagara Falls, of peace propositions being discussed between Messrs. Clay and Thompson, parties of the first part, and Horace Greeley, party of the second part. We noticed several days ago that all the above mentioned gentlemen were at the Falls, but did not believe then, nor do we now, that they have been deputed by any body to talk about peace. The Herald's dispatches saying that Mr. Hay, private Secretary to Mr. Lincoln, was one of the party, gives it a faint color of probability. It will be time enough to discuss propositions for peace after we are assured that they have been made in good faith. In the mean time, we guess that the little junto at Niagara Falls have been doing business on their own private account.

Enlistment of Minors.

The Milwaukee Sentinel is informed by Capt. Collins, U. S. mustering and recruiting officer in that city, that he has received from Gen. Phillip St. George Cooke, superintendent of the recruiting service, an order directing him to enlist minors with or without the consent of their parents, provided, of course, they are physically fitted to endure the hardships of military life.——

A NEW YORK newspaper suggests that the Chicago Convention pass a resolution "that every delegate in that Convention who believes in the further prosecution of the war," etc., should be ready and willing himself to enter the ranks. This, we submit, will hardly be necessary, for the majority of copperhead Democrats who "believe in the prosecution of the war" will already be found in the ranks—with Lee at Petersburg, or with Johnston at Atlanta.

ONE OF General Grant's advantages is his ability to send all his sick and wounded to distant hospitals, where they will be well cared for, and those not permanently disabled speedily restored to his ranks. Lee is obliged to send his sick and wounded to Richmond, where they are crowded in masses, and miserably provided for and are perishing in great numbers.

LAST WEEK a party of young ladies and gentlemen had a pic nic near Falls Church, Va., and in the midst of their pleasures were surprised at the appearance of Mosby and about twenty-five of his men, who told them 'not to be afraid.' They then danced a set with the ladies, after which they went to the wagons and devoured the cream and eatables provided for the occasion.

THE WHEAT harvest, says the Lynchburg (Va.) Republican, is nearly completed in this section, and we are pleased to hear is much larger than was expected. The grain was never better. We shall have an ample supply for home purposes, and some to furnish the outside world.

SO FAR the Ohio three year troops whose term of service has expired, mustered out, number 3,211, and but one or two regiments more are to be mustered out. This is a much smaller depletion of the army than has generally been anticipated in this direction.

A FAMILY in Michigan actually named a child Finis, supposing that it would be their last; but they afterwards happened to have a daughter and two sons, whom they called Addenda, Appendix and Supplement.

THEY are making in California, for the Sanitary Fair to be held there shortly, a gigantic cheese, six feet in diameter and two and a half feet thick,—weighing four thousand pounds. They will call it the cream of cheeses!

A PRIVATE letter from Sherman's headquarters, dated the 12th, has an item in it as follows: "Atlanta papers of the 10th say a council of war decided to fight for that place."

ONE of our farmers recently made a scarecrow so very frightful, that an old crow went and brought back all the corn he had stolen for several days.

A CANADA journal makes the statement that in all parts of that county the injury to the wheat crop has been great by that destructive insect called the "midge."

THE COLUMBUS Crisis classifies the delegates from Ohio to the Chicago Convention as forty-two Peace and eight Conditional War Democrats.

AN impatient woman in New Jersey heard of her husband's death one morning last week and got married the same night.

EIGHTY-FIVE thousand letters were mailed from the post office in Bridgeport, Connecticut, during the quarter ending July 1st.

STATE NEWS.

The Manitowoc Tribune says: Our farmers, who two weeks ago despaired of getting grain enough to bread their own families, now rejoice in the prospect of having enough and to spare. Winter wheat generally looks well. The straw is not full, but is well headed. The spring wheat, cannot we think, make more than half a crop. Oats, perhaps, will be a little better than that. Peas promise pretty well, and corn and potatoes look finely. The great loss is our hay crop, which is really next to nothing.——The West Bend Post says, crops look well in Washington County.——The Buffalo County Journal has reports from different parts of the county that the chinch bugs are doing heavy damage to wheat; in fact, some pieces are already so injured that they are being cut for fodder. The damage is mostly confined to spring wheat. Winter wheat is being cut, and it is thought will produce a fair crop.——The Stevens Point Pinery says crops in that part of the State are quite promising, the late refreshing rains, having recovered what was considered lost by drouth.——The house of Mr. Charles Wright, in Barton, Washington county, was struck by lightning on the 17th, and damaged to the amount of about $200.

THE WASHINGTON Chronicle of Friday says: "The mail receipts at the Post-Office are at present the largest ever known in Washington. Dates up to the 13th have been received from New York. Nine mails were due from all the principal cities North and West, and the amount of mail matter received filled seven wagons and two hundred and eighty mail coaches and one hundred and seventy-five bags. This is the largest mail ever received at one time in Washington. The enormous amount of work thus entailed upon the various departments of the Post-office will necessitate as much patience from the public as it will unremitting application in the Post-office employees. When it is remembered that the mails have to be separated, that the army mails have to be opened and assorted, first according to States and then to regiments, some adequate idea of the amount of labor to be accomplished can perhaps be formed.

THE CINCINNATI Gazette concurs in the view of the position of Semmes and his men taken up by the Deerhound after they had left the Alabama which is the same as that imputed to Secretary Seward. It argues that they were by all rules of warfare prisoners from the moment he struck his flag; that the conduct of Semmes in making his escape proves him destitute of all honor, but it denies that the British Government is in any way responsible for the act of Mr. Lancaster in making the rescue. The conduct of Mr. Lancaster was in every way dishonorable, it is true; quite as much so as that of Semmes. But the British Government is not to blame for that. It is not bound to return prisoners of war who elude their captors and find refuge under its flag nor is it bound to require how they escaped. The case is the same as if on land, after a battle and a surrender, part of the defeated army should without arms, cross the lines into neutral territory. They could not be demanded and would not be surrendered.

LOUISIANA.—The Constitutional Convention of Louisiana has completed its labor; and the new constitution will be submitted to the vote of the people of the state on the 1st Monday in September. The instrument is liberal, providing for a system of popular education such as never was known in a southern state; and it relieves the state from the incubus of slavery. The Era predicts its adoption by a large vote. The Convention appears to have exercised also legislative powers, and to have authorized the expenditure of considerable amounts of money for the purposes of civil government. This has not been usual in similar bodies in northern states.

THE CITY FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY have chosen as the Secretary of that institution Geo. W. Lester, Esq., in the place of Mr. Baker, who is now the President of the company.—Mr. Lester has long and creditably sustained intimate relations with a considerable portion of the business public in this city. More recently he was appointed, a few years since, traveling agent of the North American Insurance Company. He has had in this latter capacity an extended opportunity of familiarizing himself with some of the most important parts of the insurance business; and he has acquired a practical knowledge of the workings of the system now chiefly followed by the Hartford companies which can scarcely fail of being beneficial to the popular institution of which he has now become one of the active and influential officers. The "City Five," under its new management, with Mr. Baker as president, we are assured, is very satisfactory to the stockholders, and promises a career of increasing prosperity. Its capital is $250,000, and its surplus is $158,686.63, making $408,686.63. Its annual business is $200,000, and its net profits upwards of $82,000, or over 33 per cent. on its capital, while the stock now commands a high premium, being quoted at $1.53a1.55. Under the judicious management which is so confidently anticipated, it is believed that this prosperous exhibit will grow still better.

The Administration and Slavery.

That veteran abolitionist H. C. Wright, contributes to the Liberator the following summary of anti slavery "events" which have occured since Mr. Lincoln's inauguration:

1. Emancipation in Western Virginia.
2. Emancipation in Missouri.
3. Emancipation in the District of Columbia.
4. Emancipation in Maryland.
5. Slavery abolished and forever prohibited in all the Territories.
6. Kansas admitted as a free State.
7. Provisions made to admit Colorado, Nebraska and Nevada as free States.
8. Organization of Idaho, Montana, Dakota and Arizona as free Territories.
9. Recognition of the independence of Hayti and Liberia.
10. Three million of slaves declared free by Proclamation of the President, January 1, 1863.
11. All Fugitive Slave Laws repealed.
12. Inter-state slave trade abolished.
13. Negroes admitted to equal rights in United States courts, as parties to suits and as witnesses.
14. Equality of the negro recognized in the public conveyances of the District of Columbia.
15. All rebel States prohibited from returning to the Union with slavery.
16. Free labor established on numerous plantations in South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas.
17. Schools for the education of freed slaves in South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, and in Eastern Virginia—where, till within three years to educate the negro was punishable with death.
18. The wives and children of all slaves employed as freemen in military and other service of the United States made free.
19. All negroes, bond and free, enrolled as part of the military force of the nation.
20. The loyal people of Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana and Florida seeking a return to the Union on the basis of freedom to all and of the abolition and prohibition of slavery.
21. The abolition and prohibition of slavery by an amendment of the Constitution passed in the Senate by two-thirds majority, and by nearly the same in the House. Lost by lack of three or four votes, through the influence of Democratic members.
22. The nation through its representatives in Baltimore June 8th, made the abolition and prohibition of slavery the basis of its governmental administration for the future.
23. The Federal Government forbidden to employ any man as a slave, in any capacity.
24. One hundred and fifty thousand negroes, mostly freed slaves, in the pay and uniform of the Government as soldiers.

MRS. EMMA WILLARD CAPTURED BY THE REBELS.—The Troy Times of yesterday says: "A dispatch received this morning from Mrs. Phelps, at Baltimore, states that Mrs. E. Willard, of this city, was among the passengers on the train from Baltimore for Philadelphia, which was captured by the rebels when Major General Franklin was taken prisoner.

Nothing since then has been heard of Mrs. Willard, but no fears are entertained by her friends here of personal harm—although it may be possible that she has suffered in the loss of property. Mrs. Willard's authorship of several valuable standard works, and her association with the Troy Female Seminary, have given her a wide-spread reputation.

Her numerous friends here and elsewhere will await further tidings with great interest. Mrs. Willard left the city a few days ago for Baltimore and Washington, and was on her return when this unfortunate incident occurred. Her capture by the rebels was hardly one of the calculations of the journey.

PHILADELPHIA BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The Shoe and Leather Reporter says:—The market still continues dull. Jobbers are doing very little, in fact less than usual, even at this season of the year. Manufacturers still keep at work, though they make but few sales at the present advanced rates. The nearby trade still continues fair, but few orders, however, come in from the country. Dealers are not unwilling to purchase; as their stocks are mostly light. A few transactions among dealers may be noticed, goods changing hands in anticipation of future high prices. The business for fall is moderate, though perhaps it makes up the greater portion of the actual business done. Prices appear a little dighty in some cases, the disturbed condition of public affairs causing a want of confidence. On the whole the market is depressed, and though prices are higher, it can scarcely be satisfactory to the seller on account of the uncertainty which hangs over the future.

BOSTON BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The trade which during the first half of the year presented such a favorable aspect, bids fair to hold out satisfactorily unto the end and make the year 1864 one to be marked with a white stone in the calendars of the shoe trade. The fall business has certainly commenced with good promise; and we see no good reason why it should not continue. During the past week or two our manufacturers have advanced their prices on leading styles, and are holding firmly for the new rates. With leather rising every day and findings about out of sight already, there are but few inducements to sell goods, except at the highest market rates.

The total shipments by rail and sea for the past week have been 3,607 cases. The clearances from the custom-house have been 3,105 cases.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

YANKEES RAISING COTTON.—A Cotton raising association formed in Northampton, Massachusetts, last winter, has been unfortunate. Its agents on the Mississippi below Vicksburg, nearly opposite Jeff. Davis' plantation, have been twice visited by rebel raiders and one of the partners was killed, though not till he had killed three of his assailants. Their crop promises well, and if they are not further molested they will realize a good profit.

AN IDIOT SON KILLING HIS FATHER.—Jacob Miller, of Brunswick, Rensselaer county, New York, was drowned on Wednesday of last week, under peculiar circumstances. While at a spring on his farm, in company with an idiot son, adjusting the door covering it, he fell forward into the water, which was about three feet in depth. The idiot sprang forward and closed the door down upon him, preventing him from extricating himself.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS will be found on the fourth page.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING.—See notice in the advertising column.

TOM HYER is to have a monument erected to his memory, which is to cost about $2,000. $500 are already subscribed. Probably the inscription will be. "He never struck below the belt."

"Patriotism is played out."—La Crosse Democrat.

Yes; it "played out" with you when General Prentiss drummed you out of Dixie.

AN EXPRESS PACKAGE addressed to H. N. Comstock, Janesville, Wis., has been received from Co. A, 13th Regiment, containing $1240. Consignees are requested to call at once, identify themselves, and receive the amounts to which they are entitled. July 21, 1864. E. H. BENHAM.

SOLDIERS TO THE FRONT.—Co. E, 38th Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers, numbering seventy-eight men, under command of Captain Ferris, passed through this city yesterday afternoon on their way to join their regiment at the front. They were noble looking fellows, and seemed anxious for a drive at Jeff.'s friends.

BELOIT AND THE 500,000.—We learn that Beloit votes next Tuesday on the proposition to raise by tax $18,000 to pay bounties to volunteers. Mr. J. W. Gorwey, a war democrat of that place, and a man of property, not only cheerfully consents to the tax, but also agrees to pay into the fund as much more as his tax in the way of private subscription. So we are informed by gentlemen from that city.

THE CONCERT OF MADAME ANNA BISHOP.—It will be remembered by our citizens that the concert of this noted songstress and her accomplished daughter, takes place at Lappin's Hall, this evening. They have just returned from a highly successful tour up the Mississippi, and to the westward, and are giving their farewell entertainments previous to their departure for Europe.

In order that all may have an opportunity of hearing these renowned vocalists it has been decided to put the tickets in the gallery at 25 cents.

THE DRAFT.—Editors Gazette:—How to raise our quota of men under the 500,000 call and avoid the draft:

Take all the names on the present enrollment for any one town or ward, and put them into the wheel; then draw out the names singly until all are drawn, dividing them off into squads, having the number of squads equal to the number of men to be raised by such town or ward.

Now each squad is to become a vigilance committee, whose duty it is to produce one volunteer, either from among their own number, or in any other proper way. The volunteer so produced to receive, first, the government bounty; second, all contributions made by individuals of the squad furnishing the man; third, such additional bounty as the influence of the squad can raise by donation from friends, who are outside of the draft.

It this way, it seems to me, a united and presistent effort of all subject to draft, will result in any town or ward in raising its quota, and thereby obviate the necessity of a draft. Q. Y.

Participating Insurance.

The insured receive back seventy five per cent. of the net profits. The Security Insurance Company, of New York, now have a paid up cash capital of one million dollars, being the largest capital of any participating company in the country, in addition to this they have a cash surplus of three hundred thousand dollars. This company divided last year to policy holders a larger per cent. than any of the other participating companies, and stands among the heaviest and soundest institutions in New York. They will insure merchandize, buildings and other insurable property. E. L. Dimock is the agent for Janesville and vicinity.

THE ASHTABULA Sentinel published at the old home of Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, says that in that very ultra anti slavery region, "there is scarcely a Fremont man to be found."

HE SENDS STONEMAN TO MACON!

TO RELEASE UNION PRISONERS!

Over 60,000 Rebels in our Hands!

Another Fearful Accident!

18 INSANE WOMEN KILLED!

4,000 Acres of Woods on Fire!

Gov. Seymour will not appoint State Agents!

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—The Blackley Alms House fell to the ground this morning, by which 18 insane women were killed and 20 wounded. Sixteen bodies have been taken out of the ruins.

FINANCIAL MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The Secretary of the Treasury is having prepared, soon to be issued, 7. 30 notes running for three years, and convertible at maturity into U. S. bonds, interest payable semi-annually. These notes are not to be used as legal tenders.

FROM SHERMAN'S DEPARTMENT

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Commercial's Washington special says the War Department has positive information of the evacuation of Atlanta by Johnston's forces. It is believed that Sherman has by this time dispatched a large body of Stoneman's cavalry to Macon in order to release the numerous Union officers who are confined there.

The Tribune's Washington special says he have upwards of 60,000 rebel prisoners, including 400 officers.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

FT. MONROE, July 19.—Maj. Gen. Smith arrived in the steamer Adelia from Baltimore this morning, and left for the front in a special boat.

The flag of truce steamer, C. W. Thomas with Maj. Mulford, assistant commissioner of exchange, went up the river with a few prisoners.

Conflicting rumors have been in circulation during the day, of an attack on the gunboat Charles Chamberlain with Gen. Butler, by a masked battery of 4 guns near Wilcox's Landing; nothing definite, however has been received.

THE REBEL RAID.

HARRISBURG, July 20.—Important dispatches were received here last night, from which it is indicated that our forces are steadily and successfully pursuing the rebels who recently ravaged the east part of Maryland, and that the pursuing party are wresting a large amount of plunder from the rebels. Gen. Crook while in pursuit on Monday last, overtook the enemy at Snicker's Gap, where a sharp, and for a time, terrific encounter took place. The rebels fought like devils, anxious to save the grain and cattle they had stolen in carriages that far from Maryland, but Gen. Crook, however, was as determined that they should not escape. He whipped the rebels thoroughly, capturing over 300 wagons heavily laden with grain, and took many prisoners. As usual, the enemy left his dead and wounded on the field.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The fire on Long Island destroyed 4,000 acres of woods, no lives were lost.

A company of 900 Mormons leave for Albany and Westward this evening. They come from London.

A Special to the Commercial says, a new counterfeit of the postal half dollar was received at the Treasury yesterday. It was so perfect that when a half of it was sent down to the engravers room they pronounced it genuine.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Pontiac Doubledecker came in yesterday and is to be despatched to sea immediately. The Susquehanna went into commission to-day, and will go to sea to-morrow. The Ticonderoga also goes to sea to-morrow.

ALBANY, July 20.—Gov. Seymour will not appoint state agents to recruit at the South. He does not believe this to be practicable. If cities or counties choose to pay bounties and appoint agents for this purpose, they can do so, and the state authority will give them such facilities as the act of congress directs.

FROM MISSOURI.

ST. JOSEPH, July 20.—Thornton's guerillas nearly 500 strong, were in Carroll county to-day and will probably make an effort to cross Missouri river. Gen. Fisk is pressing them hard but his force is insufficient to effect them much. Loyal citizens are rallying to his standard however, and north Missouri will soon be a hot place for bushwhackers.

CAIRO, July 20.—The steamer City of Alton from Memphis arrived yesterday evening with 500 bales of cotton for St. Louis. Memphis papers contain nothing from Smith's expedition in addition to that received from our Memphis reporter last night.

ST. JOSEPH, July 20.—advices from Chillicothe states that Thornton was 20 miles south of there this morning, when he told his men that he was going to Howard County, but it is believed that he will try to cross the Missouri River and get south. A scout sent south from here reports 300 guerrillas near Bloomington. Gen. Fisks appeal is being widely responded to.

ATTENTION!—The members of Section 1, Battery A., W. A. M., are hereby notified to meet at their Armory, Thursday evening, 25th inst., at 8 o'clock precisely.

FROM NIAGARA FALLS.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A dispatch from Niagara Falls says an interview has taken place between Messrs. Clay, Thompson and Halcomb, who claim to be sent from the rebel government to seek terms of peace, and Mr. Greeley authorized by Mr. Lincoln to act in the matter. The commissioners proposed the restoration of the Union in statue quo, upon this basis:

First, All negroes which have been actually freed by the war, to be secured in such freedom.

Second, All negroes at present held as slaves to remain so.

Third, The War Department of both parties to be paid by the United States.

Fourth, The old doctrine of State Rights to be recognized in constructing the union.

This proposition was laid before Mr. Lincoln by Mr. Greeley. The President at once telegraphed to Mr. Greeley the terms upon which he would propose a settlement and reconstruction, to wit:

The full and complete restoration of the union in all its territorial integrity. The abandonment of slavery by the seceded states under consiperations which should, while respecting the property and rights of all loyal men, afford ample security against another war in the interest of slavery.

After considerable correspondence between the parties, they concluded to refer the whole matter back to the two governments for consideration.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Herald's Niagara Falls dispatch says that Mr. Greeley accompanied by Mr. Hay, private Secretary to President Lincoln, have had an interview with Geo. M. Sanders and others claiming to be peace commissioners from the rebels. The commissioners wanted to visit Washington, and receiving a statement of the terms upon which such visit might be made, they were accepted. The dispatch says a statement of the proposition published in a New York paper on Tuesday is repudiated.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Times' Washington special says Hunter asked to be relieved only so as not to embarrass Gen. Wright in his pursuit of the rebels. There was no need of it, however, as the pursuit of the enemy is being carried on by the forces under Gen. Wright with great vigor, and meet with every promise of great success. They are moving south on parallel lines and trains flying from one column are pretty certain to fall into the hands of the other.

The Tribune's Washington special says a member of Gen. Howe's staff at Harper's Ferry, says Hunter is just in. We have sent infantry to Leesburgh with cavalry and batteries of artillery.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Tribune's Headquarters correspondent of the 19th, says deserters report that the rebels intended to make an attack the day before but from some cause they deferred it. Deserters are continually coming into our lines single and by squads, and all have loleful stories.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Tribune's dispatch states that Martindale has been assigned to a command of the 18th and Terry a command of the 10th corps.

Petersburg papers have suspended publication.

The Tribune says the Washington Chronicle states that only a few straggling rebels this side of the Rappahannock. The Rebel force succeeded in reaching Staunton with their plunder. No plunder has been recaptured.

The Tribune's Headquarters dispatch of the 19th, says rain commenced falling. A new monster mortar has been introduced, it threw a mammoth 200 pound shell into Petersburg lately.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Times' Washington special says Col. Jaques of the 73d Illinois volunteers and Edmond Kirk by permission of the President, recently visited Jeff. Davis at Richmond, and had an interview with him on the state of the country. The dispatch says they were kindly received, but of course nothing of the results of the interview is received.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Herald's special says the Secretary of State has determined to make a formal demand upon the British Government for the surrender of the pirate Semmes, thus requiring that Government to give the same observance of international law that she had exacted from all other nations.

The World's Washington special says the rebel loss in their raid will amount to 2,000. Montgomery county, Maryland, is overrun with stragglers. It is reported the rebels did not go into the Shenandoah Valley, but hurried along for Richmond this side of the Blue Ridge, as fast as possible. This disposes of the report that they had halted and would return.

Our gunboats have driven away the batteries that were firing into our transports on James river.

FROM CHARLESTON.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Fulton, from Hilton Head, 12th, arrived this morning. Gen. Saxton is among the passengers.

Rebel officers have been placed in buildings on Cumming's Point. Charleston is being vigorously shelled. Sumter has been subjected to a very heavy fire from Morris Island. All the troops had returned from the recent expedition. Refugees report the Union prisoners in Charleston are treated inhumanly.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

4 O'clock P. M.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The Bulletin says an Orderly arrived at Washington this morning who left Fairfax at 9 o'clock yesterday evening, and reports an engagement going on between our forces and the rebels at Leesburg.

FROM SELBY'S DIVISION.

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—The steamer Yellow Stone, from the upper Missouri reports Gen. Selby's Indian expedition at the mouth of Cannabal river building a new fort, called Ft Rice. Hostile Indians were seen in force between Fort Rice and fort Union, and large numbers are said to be some miles back of fort Rice. Officers of the boat say Selby is severely condemned for inactivity. He is keeping his troops 5,000 in number, building forts, when he ought to be hunting and disposing of the enemy. The express opinion is he will not have a collision with the Indians.

Father Schmidt, who was aboard the Yellow Stone, had two councils with 300 Sioux near Flat Berthald, who expressed anxiety to make peace with the whites.

Twenty-six Idaho miners came down on the Yellow Stone with over 200,000 dollars in gold.

FROM MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY, July 21.—On Sunday, Capt. Morse with 47 men of the second Colorado, while scouting near Fredericksburg, Clay Co, came upon about 300 bushwhackers. The advance of the rebels were dressed in federal uniform, and correctly replied to the challenge of our men, but their whole force immediately after charged upon our troops, and a bloody little fight ensued, Capt. Moses finally ordering his men to retreat. Rebel loss, 16 killed and 10 wounded. We lost 6 killed and 4 wounded. Capt Moses had 5 bullets in his clothes. His horse was shot 4 times, but both escaped.

Maj. Richardson with 250 men, immediately pursued the guerillas in the direction of Knoxville, Roy, Co., when they broke into small bands and scattered in the brush.

FROM KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, July 21.—A Clarksville dispatch says a barge containing 80 barrels of coffee belonging to the Government which accompanied the steamer St. Louis when she was burned afterwards fell into the hands of the rebels and was destroyed.

LOUISVILLE, July 21.—Last evening the guerillas took our construction train and engine at New Haven on the Lebanon branch, fired her up, set the wood on the tender on fire, opened the throttle valve and let her run wild towards Lebanon.

The train No. 5, due here this morning, ran off the track at Colesburg, no one seriously hurt. The accident was caused by a watchman leaving the switch open.

To Merchants.

OFFICE OF THE GREAT WESTERN DESPATCH,
CLEVELAND, July 1st, 1864.

CHANGE OF ROUTE.—No Transfer of Freight between New York and Cleveland.—Gentlemen: On Monday, June 27th, the "Great Western Despatch" commenced running their freight through from New York to Cleveland, via the Erie and Atlantic and Great Western Railways.

By this route we have no transfers of freights between New York and Cleveland, and we avoid the delays and Railroad blockades to which we have been subjected for the last year at points of reshipment East of Cleveland. We now feel gratified in saying to shippers that we can put freight through in better order and in less time than any other line, except the regular Express Companies. Merchants ordering goods by the Great Western Despatch can now rely on getting them as follows, at lowest Railroad rates:

New York to Cleveland, O	3 days
" " Toledo, O	4 "
" " Cincinnati, O	6 "
" " Chicago, Ill	8 "
" " Indianapolis, Ind	8 "
" " Louisville, Ky	7 "
" " St. Louis, Mo	8 "

Time from Boston one day longer than from New York.

The General Office of the Great Western Despatch has been removed from Buffalo to Cleveland, O.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is now the largest paper printed in the State, and having the matter published in the DAILY to select from, we challenge comparison with any newspaper in Wisconsin. In correct political doctrine, in reliable market reports, in giving the latest news from all quarters, in literary merit and in local information relating to this city and county, we shall spare no pains to make the WEEKLY GAZETTE worthy of public patronage and support.

THE NEWS

Our last night's dispatches from Harrisburg, bring us the gratifying intelligence (if true) that Gen. Crook has overtaken and punished the raiding rebels near Snicker's Gap, capturing 300 heavily loaded wagons.

It is said that Sherman has sent Gen. Stoneman, with a force 16,000 strong, to Macon in order to release the Union prisoners now confined there.

The Tribune says we have upwards of 60,000 rebel prisoners now in our hands.

Eighteen insane women were killed by the falling of a building in Philadelphia yesterday.

Four thousand acres of woodland has been destroyed by fire on Long Island.

Our forenoon dispatches bring us the highly important information from Niagara Falls, of peace propositions being discussed between Messrs. Clay and Thompson, parties of the first part, and Horace Greeley, party of the second part. We noticed several days ago that all the above mentioned gentlemen were at the Falls, but did not believe then, nor do we now, that they have been deputed by any body to talk about peace. The Herald's dispatches saying that Mr. Hay, private Secretary to Mr. Lincoln, was one of the party, gives it a faint color of probability. It will be time enough to discuss propositions for peace after we are assured that they have been made in good faith. In the mean time, we guess that the little junto at Niagara Falls have been doing business on their own private account.

Enlistment of Minors.

The Milwaukee Sentinel is informed by Capt. Collins, U. S. mustering and recruiting officer in that city, that he has received from Gen. Phillip St. George Cooke, superintendent of the recruiting service, an order directing him to enlist minors with or without the consent of their parents, provided, of course, they are physically fitted to endure the hardships of military life.——

A NEW YORK newspaper suggests that the Chicago Convention pass a resolution "that every delegate in that Convention who believes in the further prosecution of the war," etc., should be ready and willing himself to enter the ranks. This, we submit, will hardly be necessary, for the majority of copperhead Democrats who "believe in the prosecution of the war" will already be found in the ranks—with Lee at Petersburg, or with Johnston at Atlanta.

ONE OF General Grant's advantages is his ability to send all his sick and wounded to distant hospitals, where they will be well cared for, and those not permanently disabled speedily restored to his ranks. Lee is obliged to send his sick and wounded to Richmond, where they are crowded in masses, and miserably provided for and are perishing in great numbers.

LAST WEEK a party of young ladies and gentlemen had a pic nic near Falls Church, Va., and in the midst of their pleasures were surprised at the appearance of Mosby and about twenty-five of his men, who told them 'not to be afraid.' They then danced a set with the ladies, after which they went to the wagons and devoured the cream and eatables provided for the occasion.

THE WHEAT harvest, says the Lynchburg (Va.) Republican, is nearly completed in this section, and we are pleased to hear is much larger than was expected. The grain was never better. We shall have an ample supply for home purposes, and some to furnish the outside world.

SO FAR the Ohio three year troops whose term of service has expired, mustered out, number 3,211, and but one or two regiments more are to be mustered out. This is a much smaller depletion of the army than has generally been anticipated in this direction.

A FAMILY in Michigan actually named a child Finis, supposing that it would be their last: but they afterwards happened to have a daughter and two sons, whom they called Addenda, Appendix and Supplement.

THEY are making in California, for the Sanitary Fair to be held there shortly, a gigantic cheese, six feet in diameter and two and a half feet thick,—weighing four thousand pounds. They will call it the cream of cheeses!

A PRIVATE letter from Sherman's headquarters, dated the 12th, has an item in it as follows: "Atlanta papers of the 10th say a council of war decided to fight for that place."

ONE of our farmers recently made a scarecrow so very frightful, that an old crow went and brought back all the corn he had stolen for several days.

A CANADA journal makes the statement that in all parts of that county the injury to the wheat crop has been great by that destructive insect called the "midge."

THE COLUMBUS Crisis classifies the delegates from Ohio to the Chicago Convention as forty-two Peace and eight Conditional War Democrats.

AN impatient woman in New Jersey heard of her husband's death one morning last week and got married the same night.

EIGHTY-FIVE thousand letters were mailed from the post office in Bridgeport, Connecticut, during the quarter ending July 1st.

STATE NEWS.

The Manitowoc Tribune says: Our farmers, who two weeks ago despaired of getting grain enough to bread their own families, now rejoice in the prospect of having enough and to spare. Winter wheat generally looks well. The straw is not full, but is well headed. The spring wheat, cannot we think, make more than half a crop. Oats, perhaps, will be a little better than that. Peas promise pretty well, and corn and potatoes look finely. The great loss is our hay crop, which is really next to nothing.——The West Bend Post says, crops look well in Washington County.——The Buffalo County Journal has reports from different parts of the county that the chinch bugs are doing heavy damage to wheat; in fact, some pieces are already so injured that they are being cut for fodder. The damage is mostly confined to spring wheat. Winter wheat is being cut, and it is thought will produce a fair crop.——The Stevens Point Pinery says crops in that part of the State are quite promising, the late refreshing rains, having recovered what was considered lost by drouth.——The house of Mr. Charles Wright, in Barton, Washington county, was struck by lightning on the 17th, and damaged to the amount of about $200.

THE WASHINGTON Chronicle of Friday says: "The mail receipts at the Post-Office are at present the largest ever known in Washington. Dates up to the 13th have been received from New York. Nine mails were due from all the principal cities North and West, and the amount of mail matter received filled seven wagons and two hundred and eighty mail couches and one hundred and seventy-five bags. This is the largest mail ever received at one time in Washington. The enormous amount of work thus entailed upon the various departments of the Post-office will necessitate as much patience from the public as it will unremitting application in the Post-office employees. When it is remembered that the mails have to be separated, that the army mails have to be opened and assorted, first according to States and then to regiments, some adequate idea of the amount of labor to be accomplished can perhaps be formed.

THE CINCINNATI Gazette concurs in the view of the position of Semmes and his men taken up by the Deerhound after they had left the Alabama which is the same as that imputed to Secretary Seward. It argues that they were by all rules of warfare prisoners from the moment he struck his flag; that the conduct of Semmes in making his escape proves him destitute of all honor, but it denies that the British Government is in any way responsible for the act of Mr. Lancaster, in making the rescue. The conduct of Mr. Lancaster was in every way dishonorable, it is true; quite as much so as that of Semmes. But the British Government is not to blame for that. It is not bound to return prisoners of war who elude their captors and find refuge under its flag nor is it bound to require how they escaped. The case is the same as if on land, after a battle and a surrender, part of the defeated army should without arms, cross the lines into neutral territory. They could not be demanded and would not be surrendered.

LOUISIANA.—The Constitutional Convention of Louisiana has completed its labor; and the new constitution will be submitted to the vote of the people of the state on the 1st Monday in September. The instrument is liberal, providing for a system of popular education such as never was known in a southern state; and it relieves the state from the incubus of slavery. The Era predicts its adoption by a large vote. The Convention appears to have exercised also legislative powers, and to have authorized the expenditure of considerable amounts of money for the purposes of civil government. This has not been usual in similar bodies in northern states.

THE CITY FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY have chosen as the Secretary of that institution Geo. W. Lester, Esq., in the place of Mr. Baker, who is now the President of the company. Mr. Lester has long and creditably sustained intimate relations with a considerable portion of the business public in this city. More recently he was appointed, a few years since, traveling agent of the North American Insurance Company. He has had in this latter capacity an extended opportunity of familiarizing himself with some of the most important parts of the insurance business; and he has acquired a practical knowledge of the workings of the system now chiefly followed by the Hartford companies which can scarcely fail of being beneficial to the popular institution of which he has now become one of the active and influential officers. The "City Fire," under its new management, with Mr. Baker as president, we are assured, is very satisfactory to the stockholders, and promises a career of increasing prosperity. Its capital is $250,000, and its surplus is $158,686.63, making $408,686.63. It annual business is $200,000, and its net profits upwards of $82,000, or over 33 per cent. on its capital; while the stock now commands a high premium, being quoted at $1.53@1.55. Under the judicious management which is so confidently anticipated, it is believed that this prosperous exhibit will grow still better.

The Administration and Slavery.

That veteran abolitionist H. C. Wright, contributes to the Liberator the following summary of anti slavery "events" which have occured since Mr. Lincoln's inauguration:

1. Emancipation in Western Virginia.
2. Emancipation in Missouri.
3. Emancipation in the District of Columbia.
4. Emancipation in Maryland.
5. Slavery abolished and forever prohibited in all the Territories.
6. Kansas admitted as a free State.
7. Provisions made to admit Colorado, Nebraska and Nevada as free States.
8. Organization of Idaho, Montana, Dakota and Arizona as free Territories.
9. Recognition of the independence of Hayti and Liberia.
10. Three million of slaves declared free by Proclamation of the President, January 1, 1863.
11. All Fugitive Slave Laws repealed.
12. Inter-state slave trade abolished.
13. Negroes admitted to equal rights in United States courts, as parties to suits and as witnesses.
14. Equality of the negro recognized in the public conveyances of the District of Columbia.
15. All rebel States prohibited from returning to the Union with slavery.
16. Free labor established on numerous plantations in South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas.
17. Schools for the education of freed slaves in South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, and in Eastern Virginia—where, till within three years to educate the negro was punishable with death.
18. The wives and children of all slaves employed as freemen in military and other service of the United States made free.
19. All negroes, bond and free, enrolled as part of the military force of the nation.
20. The loyal people of Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana and Florida seeking a return to the Union on the basis of freedom to all and of the abolition and prohibition of slavery.
21. The abolition and prohibition of slavery by an amendment of the Constitution passed in the Senate by two-thirds majority, and by nearly the same in the House. Lost by lack of three or four votes, through the influence of Democratic members.
22. The nation through its representatives in Baltimore June 8th, made the abolition and prohibition of slavery the basis of its governmental administration for the future.
23. The Federal Government forbidden to employ any man as a slave, in any capacity.
24. One hundred and fifty thousand negroes, mostly freed slaves, in the pay and uniform of the Government as soldiers.

MRS. EMMA WILLARD CAPTURED BY THE REBELS.—The Troy Times of yesterday says: "A dispatch received this morning from Mrs. Phelps, at Baltimore, states that Mrs. E. Willard, of this city, was among the passengers on the train from Baltimore for Philadelphia, which was captured by the rebels when Major General Franklin was taken prisoner.

Nothing since then has been heard of Mrs. Willard, but no fears are entertained by her friends here of personal harm—although it may be possible that she has suffered in the loss of property. Mrs. Willard's authorship of several valuable standard works, and her association with the Troy Female Seminary, have given her a wide-spread reputation.

Her numerous friends here and elsewhere will await further tidings with great interest. Mrs. Willard left the city a few days ago for Baltimore and Washington, and was on her return when this unfortunate incident occurred. Her capture by the rebels was hardly one of the calculations of the journey.

PHILADELPHIA BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The Shoe and Leather Reporter says:—The market still continues dull. Jobbers are doing very little, in fact less than usual, even at this season of the year. Manufacturers still keep at work, though they make but few sales at the present advanced rates. The nearby trade still continue fair, but few orders, however, come in from the country. Dealers are not unwilling to purchase, as their stocks are mostly light. A few transactions among dealers may be noticed, goods changing hands in anticipation of future high prices. The business for fall is moderate, though perhaps it makes up the greater portion of the actual business done. Prices appear a little slightly in some cases, the disturbed condition of public affairs causing a want of confidence. On the whole the market is depressed, and though prices are higher, it can scarcely be satisfactory to the seller on account of the uncertainty which hangs over the future.

BOSTON BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The trade which during the first half of the year presented such a favorable aspect, bids fair to hold out satisfactorily unto the end and make the year 1864 one to be marked with a white stone in the calendars of the shoe trade. The fall business has certainly commenced with good promise, and we see no good reason why it should not continue. During the past week or two our manufacturers have advanced their prices on leading styles, and are holding firmly for the new rates With leather rising every day and findings about out of sight already, there are but few inducements to sell goods, except at the highest market rates.

The total shipments by rail and sea for the past week have been 8,667 cases. The clearances from the custom-house have been 3,105 cases.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

YANKEES RAISING COTTON.—A Cotton raising association formed in Northampton, Massachusetts, last winter, has been unfortunate. Its agents on the Mississippi below Vicksburg, nearly opposite Jeff. Davis' plantation, have been twice visited by rebel raiders and one of the partners was killed, though not till he had killed three of his assailants. Their crop promises well, and if they are not further molested they will realize a good profit.

AN IDIOT SON KILLING HIS FATHER.—Jacob Miller, of Brunswick, Rensselaer county, New York, was drowned on Wednesday of last week, under peculiar circumstances. While at a spring on his farm, in company with an idiot son, adjusting the door covering it, he fell forward into the water, which was about three feet in depth. The idiot sprang forward and closed the door down upon him, preventing him from extricating himself.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING.—See notice in the advertising column.

TOM HYER is to have a monument erected to his memory, which is to cost about $2,000. $500 are already subscribed. Probably the inscription will be, "He never struck below the belt."

"Patriotism is played out."—La Crosse Democrat.

Yes; it "played out" with you when General Prentiss drummed you out of Dixie.

AN EXPRESS PACKAGE addressed to H. N. Comstock, Janesville, Wis., has been received from Co. A, 13th Regiment, containing $1240. Consignees are requested to call at once, identify themselves, and receive the amounts to which they are entitled. July 21, 1864. E. H. BENHAM.

SOLDIERS TO THE FRONT.—Co. E, 38th Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers, numbering seventy-eight men, under command of Captain Ferris, passed through this city yesterday afternoon on their way to join their regiment at the front. They were noble looking fellows, and seemed anxious for a drive at Jeff.'s friends.

BELOIT AND THE 500,000.—We learn that Beloit votes next Tuesday on the proposition to raise by tax $18,000 to pay bounties to volunteers. Mr. J. W. Gorwey, a war democrat of that place, and a man of property, not only cheerfully consents to the tax, but also agrees to pay into the fund as much more as his tax in the way of private subscription. So we are informed by gentlemen from that city.

THE CONCERT OF MADAME ANNA BISHOP.—It will be remembered by our citizens that the concert of this noted songstress and her accomplished daughter, takes place at Lappin's Hall, this evening. They have just returned from a highly successful tour up the Mississippi, and to the westward, and are giving their farewell entertainments previous to their departure for Europe.

In order that all may have an opportunity of hearing these renowned vocalists it has been decided to put the tickets in the gallery at 25 cents.

THE DRAFT.—Editors Gazette:—How to raise our quota of men under the 500,000 call and avoid the draft:

Take all the names on the present enrollment for any one town or ward, and put them into the wheel; then draw out the names singly until all are drawn, dividing them off into squads, having the number of squads equal to the number of men to be raised by such town or ward.

Now each squad is to become a vigilance committee, whose duty it is to produce one volunteer, either from among their own number, or in any other proper way. The volunteer so produced to receive, first, the government bounty; second, all contributions made by individuals of the squad furnishing the man; third, such additional bounty as the influence of the squad can raise by donation from friends, who are outside of the draft.

It this way, it seems to me, a united and presistent effort of all subject to draft, will result in any town or ward in raising its quota, and thereby obvinte the necessity of a draft. Q. Y.

Participating Insurance.

The insured receive back seventy five per cent. of the net profits. The Security Insurance Company, of New York, now have a paid up cash capital of one million dollars, being the largest capital of any participating company in the country, in addition to this they have a cash surplus of three hundred thousand dollars. This company divided last year to policy holders a larger per cent. than any of the other participating companies, and stands among the heaviest and soundest institutions in New York. They will insure merchandize, buildings and other insurable property. E. L. Dimock is the agent for Janesville and vicinity.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—The Blackley Alms House fell to the ground this morning, by which 18 insane women were killed and 20 wounded. Sixteen bodies have been taken out of the ruins.

FINANCIAL MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The Secretary of the Treasury is having prepared, soon to be issued, 7. 30 notes running for three years, and convertible at maturity into U. S. bonds, interest payable semi-annually. These notes are not to be used as legal tenders.

FROM SHERMAN'S DEPARTMENT

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Commercial's Washington special says the War Department has positive information of the evacuation of Atlanta by Johnston's forces. It is believed that Sherman has by this time dispatched a large body of Stoneman's cavalry to Macon in order to release the numerous Union officers who are confined there.

The Tribune's Washington special says he have upwards of 60,000 rebel prisoners, including 400 officers.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

FT. MONROE, July 19.—Maj. Gen. Smith arrived in the steamer Adelia from Baltimore this morning, and left for the front in a special boat.

The flag of truce steamer, C. W. Thomas with Maj. Mulford, assistant commissioner of exchange, went up the river with a few prisoners.

Conflicting rumors have been in circulation during the day, of an attack on the gunboat Charles Chamberlain with Gen. Butler, by a masked battery of 4 guns near Wilcox's Landing; nothing definite, however has been received.

THE REBEL RAID.

HARRISBURG, July 20.—Important dispatches were received here last night, from which it is indicated that our forces are steadily and successfully pursuing the rebels who recently ravaged the east part of Maryland, and that the pursuing party are wresting a large amount of plunder from the rebels. Gen. Crook while in pursuit on Monday last, overtook the enemy at Snicker's Gap, where a sharp, and for a time, terrific encounter took place. The rebels fought like devils, anxious to save the grain and cattle they had stolen in carriages that far from Maryland, but Gen. Crook, however, was as determined that they should not escape. He whipped the rebels thoroughly, capturing over 300 wagons heavily laden with grain, and took many prisoners. As usual, the enemy left his dead and wounded on the field.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The fire on Long Island destroyed 4,000 acres of woods, no lives were lost.

A company of 900 Mormons leave for Albany and Westward this evening. They come from London.

A Special to the Commercial says, a new counterfeit of the postal half dollar was received at the Treasury yesterday. It was so perfect that when a half of it was sent down to the engravers room they pronounced it genuine.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Pontiac Doublender came in yesterday and is to be despatched to sea immediately. The Susquehanna went into commission to-day, and will go to sea to-morrow. The Tuscarora also goes to sea to-morrow.

ALBANY, July 20.—Gov. Seymour will not appoint state agents to recruit at the South. He does not believe this to be practicable. If cities or counties choose to pay bounties and appoint agents for this purpose, they can do so, and the state authority will give them such facilities as the act of congress directs.

FROM MISSOURI.

ST. JOSEPH, July 20.—Thornton's guerillas nearly 500 strong, were in Carroll county to-day and will probably make an effort to cross Missouri river. Gen. Fisk is pressing them hard but his force is insufficient to effect them much. Loyal citizens are rallying to his standard however, and north Missouri will soon be a hot place for bushwhackers.

CAIRO, July 20.—The steamer City of Alton from Memphis arrived yesterday evening with 500 bales of cotton for St. Louis. Memphis papers contain nothing from Smith's expedition in addition to that received from our Memphis reporter last night.

ST. JOSEPH, July 20.—advices from Chillicothe states that Thornton was 20 miles south of there this morning, when he told his men that he was going to Howard County, but it is believed that he will try to cross the Missouri River and get south. A scout sent south from here reports 300 guerrillas near Bloomington. Gen. Fisks appeal is being widely responded to.

FROM NIAGARA FALLS.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A dispatch from Niagara Falls says an interview has taken place between Messrs. Clay, Thompson and Halcomb, who claim to be sent from the rebel government to seek terms of peace; and Mr. Greeley authorized by Mr. Lincoln to act in the matter. The commissioners proposed the restoration of the Union in statue quo, upon this basis:

First, All negroes which have been actually freed by the war, to be secured in such freedom.

Second, All negroes at present held as slaves to remain so.

Third, The War Department of both parties to be paid by the United States.

Fourth, The old doctrine of State Rights to be recognized in constructing the union.

This proposition was laid before Mr. Lincoln by Mr. Greeley. The President at once telegraphed to Mr. Greeley the terms upon which he would propose a settlement and reconstruction, to wit:

The full and complete restoration of the union in all its territorial integrity. The abandonment of slavery by the seceded states under consiperations which should, while respecting the property and rights of all loyal men, afford ample security against another war in the interest of slavery

After considerable correspondence between the parties, they concluded to refer the whole matter back to the two governments for consideration.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Herald's Niagara Falls dispatch says that Mr. Greeley accompanied by Mr. Hay, private Secretary to President Lincoln, have had an interview with Geo. M. Sanders and others claiming to be peace commissioners from the rebels. The commissioners wanted to visit Washington, and receiving a statement of the terms upon which such visit might be made, they were accepted. The dispatch says a statement of the proposition published in a New York paper on Tuesday is repudiated.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Times' Washington special says Hunter asked to be relieved only so as not to embarrass Gen. Wright in his pursuit of the rebels. There was no need of it, however, as the pursuit of the enemy is being carried on by the forces under Gen. Wright with great vigor, and meet with every promise of great success. They are moving south on parallel lines and trains flying from one column are pretty certain to fall into the hands of the other.

The Tribune's Washington special says a member of Gen. Howe's staff at Harper's Ferry, says Hunter is just in. We have sent infantry to Leesburgh with cavalry and batteries of artillery.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Tribune's Headquarters correspondent of the 19th, says deserters report that the rebels intended to make an attack the day before but from some cause they deferred it. Deserters are continually coming into our lines single and by squads, and all have doleful stories.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Tribune's dispatch states that Martindale has been assigned to a command of the 18th and Ferry a command of the 10th corps.

Petersburg papers have suspended publication.

The Tribune says the Washington Chronicle states that only a few straggling rebels this side of the Rappahannock. The Rebel force succeeded in reaching Staunton with their plunder. No plunder has been recaptured.

The Tribune's Headquarters dispatch of the 19th, says rain commenced falling. A new monster mortar has been introduced, it threw a mammoth 200 pound shell into Petersburg lately.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Times' Washington special says Col. Jaques of the 73d Illinois volunteers and Edmond Kirk by permission of the President, recently visited Jeff. Davis at Richmond, and had an interview with him on the state of the country. The dispatch says they were kindly received, but of course nothing of the results of the interview is received.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The Herald's special says the Secretary of State has determined to make a formal demand upon the British Government for the surrender of the pirate Semmes, thus requiring that Government to give the same observance of international law that she had exacted from all other nations.

The World's Washington special says the rebel loss in their raid will amount to 2,000. Montgomery county, Maryland, is overrun with stragglers. It is reported the rebels did not go into the Shenandoah Valley, but hurried along for Richmond this side of the Blue Ridge as fast as possible. This disposes of the report that they had halted and would return.

Our gunboats have driven away the batteries that were firing into our transports on James river.

FROM CHARLESTON.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Fulton, from Hilton Head, 12th, arrived this morning. Gen. Saxton is among the passengers.

Rebel officers have been placed in buildings on Cumming's Point. Charleston is being vigorously shelled. Sumter has been subjected to a very heavy fire from Morris Island. All the troops had returned from the recent expedition. Refugees report the Union prisoners in Charleston are treated inhumanly.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

4 O'clock P. M.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The Bulletin says an Orderly arrived at Washington this morning who left Fairfax at 9 o'clock yesterday evening, and reports an engagement going on between our forces and the rebels at Leesburg.

FROM SELBY'S DIVISION.

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—The steamer Yellow Stone, from the upper Missouri reports Gen. Selby's Indian expedition at the mouth of Cannabal river building a new fort, called Ft Rice. Hostile Indians were seen in force between Fort Rice and fort Union, and large numbers are said to be some miles back of fort Rice. Officers of the boat say Selby is severely condemned for inactivity. He is keeping his troops 5,000 in number, building forts, when he ought to be hunting and disposing of the enemy. The express opinion is he will not have a collision with the Indians.

Father Schmidt, who was aboard the Yellow Stone, had two councils with 300 Siouxs near Flat Berthald, who expressed anxiety to make peace with the whites.

Twenty-six Idaho miners came down on the Yellow Stone with over 200,000 dollars in gold.

FROM MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY, July 21.—On Sunday, Capt. Morse with 47 men of the second Colorado, while scouting near Fredericksburg, Clay Co, came upon about 300 bushwhackers. The advance of the rebels were dressed in federal uniform, and correctly replied to the challenge of our men, but their whole force immediately after charged upon our troops, and a bloody little fight ensued, Capt. Moses finally ordering his men to retreat. Rebel loss, 16 killed and 10 wounded. We lost 6 killed and 4 wounded. Capt Moses had 5 bullets in his clothes. His horse was shot 4 times, but both escaped.

Maj. Richardson with 250 men, immediately pursued the guerillas in the direction of Knoxville, Roy, Co., when they broke into small bands and scattered in the brush.

FROM KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, July 21.—A Clarksville dispatch says a barge containing 80 barrels of coffee belonging to the Government which accompanied the steamer St. Louis when she was burned afterwards fell into the hands of the rebels and was destroyed.

LOUISVILLE, July 21.—Last evening the guerillas took our construction train and engine at New Haven on the Lebanon branch, fired her up, set the wood on the tender on fire, opened the throttle valve and let her run wild towards Lebanon.

The train No. 5, due here this morning, ran off the track at Colesburg, no one seriously hurt. The accident was caused by a watchman leaving the switch open.

To Merchants.

OFFICE OF THE GREAT WESTERN DESPATCH,
CLEVELAND, July 1st, 1864

CHANGE OF ROUTE.—No Transfer of Freight between New York and Cleveland.—Gentlemen: On Monday, June 27th, the "Great Western Despatch" commenced running their freight through from New York to Cleveland, via the Erie and Atlantic and Great Western Railways.

By this route we have no transfers of freights between New York and Cleveland, and we avoid the delays and Railroad blockades to which we have been subjected for the last year at points of reshipment East of Cleveland. We now feel gratified in saying to shippers that we can put freight through in better order and in less time than any other line, except the regular Express Companies. Merchants ordering goods by the Great Western Despatch can now rely on getting them as follows, at lowest Railroad rates:

New York to Cleveland, O.....	3 days
" " Toledo, O.....	4 "
" " Cincinnati, O.....	6 "
" " Chicago, Ill.....	6 "
" " Indianapolis, Ind.....	6 "
" " Louisville, Ky.....	7 "
" " St Louis, Mo.....	8 "

Time from Boston one day longer than from New York.

The General Office of the Great Western Despatch has been removed from Buffalo to Cleveland, O.

Recruiting in the Seceded States.

Our morning dispatches bring us information that Governor Seymour of New York, has decided not to send state agents into the seceded states for the purpose of recruiting, but where counties raise bounties and wish to send agents, he will do whatever he can to aid them. This is precisely what might have been expected of Governor S., and is perfectly consistent with his former career and principles as a first class copperhead. The man who proposed "to pause" in his efforts to put down a rebellion that was clutching for the throat of the nation until he could determine the minute details of the policy of the Administration in regard to carrying on this war, and whose sympathies are clearly enlisted on the side of the rebels, cannot be expected to do more than the "law allows" to embarrass his Southern "friends." No doubt the Governor thinks it would be incompatable with his theory of State rights which he has been trying to put in practice upon General Dix with indifferent success, if he should authorize the quota of troops to be filled, wholly or in part, by the residents of another state. How could Governor Seymour look Governor Letcher, or Governor Vance, or Governor Bramlette in the face again if he should permit such an infraction of the doctrine of state sovereignty as he and they believe in? Such a proceeding would compromise Mr. Seymour as the representative of the great copperhead party of the State of New York, and the plea that Congress had authorized it, would be insufficient to screen him from the wrath to come. What would the World and the Woods and the Rynders and the McCuns say if a course should be pursued whereby men in the insurgent States should be induced to enter the Union army when, if left to themselves, they might enlist under the negro-murdering banner of Jeff. Davis?

Another point: The law allows men of color to be taken as substitutes, and here comes up for recognition that horrible doctrine of the equality of the races in all its naked and repulsive deformity! What if Governor Seymour's son should be drafted, and the son, having a wholesome fear of rebel bullets before his eyes, should hire an American citizen of African descent to represent him at the front, for a certain sum of money agreed upon; wouldn't the "nigger" be equal to the white man, although the white man might be the son of Governor Seymour of New York? No wonder the tender-hearted and aristocratic father turns from this view of the case with a shudder of ineffable loathing. Think of it, a "nigger" in the very shoes of a white man, and that man a Governor's son!!

Or look again: What if the State of New York should send an agent into the insurgent states and enlist a colored man who might go as a substitute for one of the Celtic "friends" of Seymour who amused himself about a year ago, in murdering "nagurs" in cold blood in the streets of New York, and in setting fire to asylums for colored orphan children; thus elevating to the dignity (?) of a drunken ward politician and a murderer who can vote, a respectable, inoffensive and peaceable colored man.

Is it any wonder that Seymour shrinks from being made a party to this black Republican trick to elevate the negro at the expense of the white man? Nay verily. Better lay his own darling son dead in the rifle pits in front of Petersburg—better strip the Five Points of every pimp who votes the copperhead ticket—better suffer the overthrow of the Republic itself, than to do anything directly or indirectly that will have the slightest tendency to recognize the possibility of the colored man's manhood. Let men be consistent though they, as well as the heavens, fall, and if any one has such a high appreciation of the worth and dignity of the rebels that they think it disgraceful to have them shot by their former slaves, let him draw on his patent leather boots and white kid gloves and put the rebels out of the way in a gentlemanly and "constitutional" manner.

JAMES S. THORNTON, the lieutenant commander of the Kearsage, which destroyed the Alabama, is a resident of Hartford, Ct. A short time before the Alabama left the harbor of Cherbourg, this officer left his own craft, and disguising himself in a French blouse and the general apparel and appearance of a French citizen, he succeeded in gaining admission on board the rebel vessel, and examined fully every part of her, taking notes of her machinery, armament, &c. The result was that Commander Winslow, of the Kearsage, resolved that he could and would sink the rebel whenever she came out, and he did.

BEST SORT.—The buxom bright-eyed, full chested, bouncing lass—who can darn a stocking, mend trousers, make her own frock, command a regiment of pots and kettles, feed the pigs, milk the cows, and be a lady with all in company—is just the sort of a girl for a man to marry; but you, ye pining, lolling, screwed up, wasp-waisted, doll-dressed, putty-faced, consumption mortgaged, time-wasting, novel-devouring daughters of fashion and idleness—you are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens.—Nevada Transcript.

Review of the Rebel Raid.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

I.

The siege of Washington, not quite so long in duration as the siege of Troy, and hardly as glorious as Derry or Saragossa, has been at length raised, and there is now a restoration of communication with you of the outside world, whose fears and anxieties regarding the fate of the Capitol we have been able to imagine. This morning it was found that the enemy had withdrawn from in front of the defences of Washington, and though they still show pickets at Bladensburg and on the railroad, there is good reason to believe that their main force is marching toward the Potomac, to make good their retreat with all the loot that a week of uninterrupted plunder has afforded them.

II.

It is too early for us yet to make up our minds whether we ought to laugh over the denouement of an affair more farcical than tragical, or whether we should feel a devout thankfulness for a great deliverance. There is enough that is droll to justify the former, were it not checked by the reflection of how much there is mortifying and humiliating in the circumstances of this rebel raid. A great army is planted before the lines at Petersburg, where the vital interests of the war centre; but the rebels, by a movement of matchless boldness, are able for a time to transfer the seat of war to the north of the Potomac, are permitted to roam through and ravage a loyal State, and are able finally to throw the capital of the nation into a siege, and inspire others than the faint-hearted with fears and forebodings for its safety.

Now that it is over one can speak with more freedom than was erewhile allowable, and hence it is not improper to confess that Washington has for two or three days past been more really "invested" than Richmond ever has been. It is true the Potomac River, a great natural line of communications, has been open to us; but our direct and customary communications with the North and West have been, and now remain severed; and this not merely by the damage done by the mounted raiders, but by the fact that the enemy placed himself on our communications, which, I believe, is more than Gen. Grant has yet done with respect to the communications of Richmond. Never yet, in all their invasions, have the rebels attempted anything so bold, and although there can be no doubt that Washington has before been in far more real danger of capture than at any time during this late affair, yet never before have the rebels been able to make the capital seem to be in so much danger; and for the first time they have won the eclat—whatever this may be worth—of an actual investment of the defences of Washington. Cheap glory, but they will, no doubt, make the best of it.

Three opportunities the rebels have had of capturing Washington; the first was immediately after Bull Run, the second was after the defeat of Pope, and the third is the present occasion. But the latter they lost before even they reached the front of Washington. Had they concentrated and marched directly on to Washington, without waiting for plunder, there is no telling what might have been the result of a vigorous blow; but when they arrived it was already too late. Washington was safe, not only in its circle of fortifications, but in the veteran defenders that stood behind them.

III.

But this, and all other questions arising out of the raid, depend for their determination on the one capital point as to the design of the rebels in the movement into Maryland. And this again reduces itself to a single alternative. Had the invasion a strictly military aim, or was it undertaken for the purpose of plunder, together with such incidental military advantages as might be gained? Although from present appearances, there is very little to indicate that the rebels entertained the former design, and almost everything to indicate that limited their ambition to the latter, yet there was much, even as late as yesterday, to lead to the conclusion that they were aiming at nothing short of a transfer of the war to the soil of the loyal States, and the capture of the capital. The force in Maryland was estimated even by military heads, at nothing less than thirty thousand men, while it was asserted that another column, consisting of the whole of Longstreet's corps, was on its way up from Gordonsville. This view of the matter was taken by the Washington Star of Monday when that journal made the following declaration:

"The rebel army of invasion marched down the Valley, 45,000 strong, including 8,000 cavalry, under command of Maj-Gen. Tubal Early and Brig-Gens. Breckenridge Ransom, Imboden and McCausland. Longstreet was at Gordonsville on Tuesday last, with additional forces to join the rebel army of invasion, and the purpose of that army was an attempt at the capture of Washington by a surprise. The Virginia Central Railroad is repaired, and running from Richmond to Staunton."

The theory of a column of rebel reinforcements moving up from Gordonsville seemed, moreover, to acquire the weight of fact by the testimony of a Union scout who yesterday averred to Secretary Stanton that he had the previous night slept in Longstreet's camp, and that his forces were encamped near Manassas Junction.

Now if these estimates could be taken as reliable, they would seem to indicate, on the part of Lee, the most serious designs. It was reckoned that there was already in Maryland the command of Breckinridge (two divisions,) the whole of Ewell' old corps under command of Gen. Early, while at least two brigades of Hill's corps were understood to have been withdrawn from Grant's front more than a fortnight before. These with the superaddition of Longstreet's command, would constitute a force much too formidable for a mere raiding party, while it would be fair to infer that the detachment of so large a portion of Lee's army from in front of the Union force would indicate a purpose on the part of the rebel Gen. of giving up Petersburg and even Richmond. I am one of those who have always held the opinion that when the worst came to the worst with Lee—when he should feel it impossible much longer to hold on to Richmond—he would play the last remaining card—attempt to exchange the rebel capital for the capital of the United States. And though it has generally been accepted that a movement on Washington by the rebels, with the Union army observing them so closely as it now does, would be nothing short of madness, and must result in their utter destruction, yet the success that has attended the present invading column, the secrecy with which the movement was conducted, and their nearness to clutching even the highest prize itself, suggest the prudence of modifying somewhat the certainty of the dictum that the rebels never could move on Washington with the Union army watching them.

IV.

But the movements of the rebels, and the nature of their operations, are against the presumption that any such ambitious project fired them in the present invasion. And first of all, there is no evidence whatever that this force reaches anything like the strength attributed to it by the affrighted souls of terror-striken fugitives, who have been the authors of most of the swelling numbers that have been given out. It has, in fact, been one of the greatest misfortunes arising out of the inefficiency of the Generals who up to the time the rebels arrived before Washington, were intrusted with the duties of checking their advance, that we have no estimate even approximately reliable of the enemy's strength. Sigel, who held the door of the valley through which the rebels, as on the occasion of both their previous invasions, entered the dominion of the loyal states, had his troops so faultily disposed that he was not even aware of the approach of the enemy, and he was never afterward willing to get near enough to them to learn their numbers. Gen. Wallace, who met the enemy in the chief engagement they have delivered on the soil of Maryland, put them at twenty thousand men; but this, again, is simple conjecture. It is true that the reports of the rebel prisoners themselves have all assigned a great figure to the column of invasion, putting it invariably at forty thousand at least, and claiming re-enforcements as coming. But there is the very best reason to believe that these fellows lie either willingly or unwittingly—either because they are told to do so, or because they know no better. One of these statements, I confess, for a moment staggered me. A rebel Lieutenant, mortally wounded, called, in his faintness, for some water or brandy. Some of the latter was given him, and he then, with great solemnity and conscious of his moribund state, averred that the Confederate force which had fought Wallace at Monocacy numbered twenty thousand men—that this was but one half their force, the remaining half having diverged on another road, and that an additional column of forty thousand men under Gen. Lee was on its way up to join the force then in Maryland. Whether or not he believed what he said I know not; if he was guilty of perjury in his dying hour, his soul has already answered for it.

Another fact which militates against the hypothesis that the rebels aimed at the capture of Washington, is the extraordinary degree to which their forces have been scattered. A force distributing itself from Harper's Ferry to Bladensburg and Baltimore, may be well calculated for raking into its drag-net all the spoils of the country, and inflicting the most extensive possible damage; but for effective military blows concentration is of course, absolutely essential. It does not appear that the rebels were ever really concentrated, although it is not improbable that the major portion of their force massed at Monocacy, and perhaps, also, they had a good part of it before Washington. In the latter case, we are again conducted to the belief that their force was inconsiderable. They yesterday made a respectable show in front of Fort Stevens and Fort Lincoln; but certainly nothing more than a moderately heavy skirmish line—no line of battle, no such masses of men as were conjured up by lively imaginations at the front, out of "colums of dust." I should think that twelve or fifteen thousand must have included the whole rebel force in Maryland.

Finally, in evidence that the enemy was not prepared for any serious attack on Washington, the weightiest circumstance of all is, that they made none whatever. The numerous little spirits of fight they have shown have been of the most feeble kind—only the encounter of last evening reaching the proportions of a respectable picket fight. Without doubt they would have been willing, had they found the opportunity—had they found Washington defenceless—to have entered, sacked and burned it, and their expedition in this direction was probably a reconnoissance to see what the chances were. They did not find them promising, and after this they appear to have confined their efforts to keeping our large force cooped up in Washington, while the rest of the band devoted themselves to an extended system of pillage. They found they could do this, and threw our overwhelming numbers into a defensive attitude, and this was no doubt glory enough!

What the rebels actually accomplished may be summed as follows:

1. They established, for a time, a base of supplies for Lee's army in Maryland.—There can be no doubt that they have been only too successful in the capture of stores, cattle, horses, &c., which they have made. In this part of their programme they have probably been as successful as they could have hoped. If one could look down the highways of Virginia, he could see filing adown them long trains filled with the spolia opima of this raiding campaign in Maryland.

2. By cutting the railroad communications leading into Baltimore and Washington, and drawing their forces up impudently before the defences of the city, they won the prestige of having for the time being thrown the capital of the nation into a species of siege. The fact of the real hollowness of this triumph will not prevent its being taken abroad for a very significant demonstration of our weakness.

3. By the fact of the invasion they will probably gain, furthermore, the credit of having shown that while we are besieging the rebel capital we are unable to protect our own soil. This also is, of course, nothing more than specious, but it will be accepted as Gospel by our enemies at home and abroad.

4. They have produced a great scare throughout all the country covered by their operations, and far beyond. I should except from this Washington City, which has throughout maintained a certain dignified composure; but from Martinsburg, Hagerstown and Harper's Ferry to Baltimore and even north of that, they have spread terror wherever they or the report of them has gone. In Baltimore especially, the exhibitions have been pitiful.—There is no evidence that the city has ever been threatened by anything more than a cavalry party, and a small one at that. And yet this squad of men has been able to coop up a force strong enough to chew up the rebels, or ten times their number, body and boots, while they have devoted themselves to burning houses in the suburbs, and have even captured parties of our men within the limits of the city.

5. They have been able to relieve their lines in front of Petersburg, for a brief period at least, from the pressure of a goodly number of Grant's army.

6. They have given a practical demonstration of one of the standing dangers of putting our army out of the position to cover Washington, [as it is before Petersburg,] namely, that the enemy can, by a vigorous feint toward the Capital, throw the whole country into alarm respecting its safety. This is a dangerous state of facts, for it induces a pressure which it becomes difficult for any Executive to withstand.

VI

The movements of the rebels from Monocacy, where they were last Saturday, do not appear to have been dictated by any other considerations than those already enumerated. Gen. Wallace did right in making a fight at Monocacy, for it is the point of divergence of the roads leading both to Baltimore and to Washington.—Had he been able to hold this point and repulse the rebels they never could have gotten any further, and must have sought to make their way across the Potomac.—But whether from the indequate quantity of his troops, or for other causes, he was unfortunately, not able to do so.

The division of the Sixth Corps which had arrived to his aid, and which held the left of the railroad, fought with their usual style; but Tyler's troops, (most one hundred days' men,) on the right could not be held, and broke in disorder. This opened the road to the enemy. The rebels, on this, seemed to have moved with most of their force directly toward Washington, avoiding Baltimore altogether. They marched by the straight route to Washington, namely, the Georgetown pike, leading from Monocacy Junction, through Rockville to Washington. On Saturday night their advance reached Rockville, fourteen miles from this point. Here they bivouacked. On Monday morning, a cavalry force under Col. Lowell, was thrown out to feel the enemy, and skirmishing followed near Tennallytown, beyond which, however, they were held at bay. This point forms the left of our line.

During the forenoon, large clouds of dust, rising beyond the rebel kirmish line, gave evidence of the movement of considerable bodies of rebel troops. In confirmation of this, it was soon discovered that the enemy, diverging from Rockville, were moving round toward our right. In fact at this point of the line, in front of Fort Stevens, formerly Fort Massachusetts, a considerable force of rebel cavalry showed themselves Monday morning. The point at which they appeared was in the neighborhood of Silver Springs, old Francis P. Blair's residence, just over the District line in Montgomery County, on the Seventh Street road and just beyond the lines of our fortifications. Here skirmishing was kept up during the morning, and at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon it became somewhat severe, the rebel sharpshooters, under cover of the houses in the vicinity, having advanced to within 30 or 40 rods of the fort.

In course of the afternoon the rebel infantry began arriving in front of Fort Stevens, where they soon showed a strong line. In consequence of his maneuvre on the part of the enemy, the Sixth Corps, which had just arrived and has been destined to take position on the left of our line, were transferred to Fort Stevens. It had been expected from the menacing movements of the enemy at this point on Monday evening, that an assault would be attempted early the following morning, but nothing but skirmishing has occurred.

In fact it was already too late for the rebels to attempt anything. In addition to the two divisions of the Sixth Corps, the Nineteenth Corps, which had been ordered up from New Orleans, and had opportunely arrived in the James River, was diverted from its intended point; was shipped without transfer directly to Washington, where it was put under the efficient control of Gen. Gilmore. After this no one of sound nerves had the slightest apprehension for the safety of the Capital.

During yesterday nothing occurred except skirmishing, which, toward six in the afternoon, became quite severe. Bidwell's brigade of the Second Division, Sixth Corps, and a portion of Wheaton's brigade, engaged the enemy and drove him for upward of a mile, with a loss to us of nearly 300 men. The enemy's loss must have been full as great, as he left eleven officers and ninety men, too severely wounded to take away, at the residence of F. P. Blair, Jr.

This little affair was sufficient to bring the rebels to a determination. This was to retreat. It was expected that they would do so during the night, and the reconnoissance of this morning showed that they had withdrawn. It is expected that they will cross at Edward's Ferry, though there are those who conceive that the rebels may take advantage of their interior line to deal a blow at Hunter by the way.

VII

This abruptly ends this boldest, and probably most successful of all the rebel raids. There is much in the whole affair that time alone can clear up. It is too early yet for a verdict. That "some one has blundered," is obvious; but who he is must be left for time to disclose.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

LYON'S KATHAIRON—Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathaire," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate, and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring, and beautifying the human hair, it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill, and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning grey.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers. DEMAS S. BARNES & CO.,

THE LITTLE ZOUAVE.

[One little stocky fellow in the Fire Zouave regiment killed thirteen men in thirteen shots. He was afterwards killed himself.]

'Twas a little Zouave of the dreman sort,
His face powder blackened, his hair shingled short,
His brawny chest naked, his eyes flashing flame,
As over the red field of battle he came;
Then c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
And the great rebel army was lessened by one.

The batteries thundered, the cannon-balls flew,
The smoke and the dust hid the soldiers from view;
But whenever the cloud lifted up, you might scan
The little Zouave taking aim at his man
Then c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
And put a quietus to some rebel's fun.

The day was a scorcher, the men were athirst,
And the little Zouave often fluently cursed;
But still he pressed on among shrapnel and shell,
And each time he fired an enemy fell;
For c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
And every shot told, on the dead list, for one

The rebels, astonished, remarked, now and then,
"Them red-legged devils fight wuss'n our men,"
For they saw that no rebel and traitor could have
One quarter the pluck of the little Zouave:
So c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
Making holes in the rascals, to let in the sun.

Still forward, bare-breasted and spilling for fight,
The little Zouave battled well for the right:
Perhaps it was lucky he never could know
How our army received a repulse from the foe
For c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run—
A Minie-ball came, and the Zouave was done!

There, prone on the field of his prowess he lay,
In the last fading light of the lingering day:
The wound in his forehead was ghastly to see,
But the little Zouave had done gloriously!
And his merciless gun,
On the shores of Bull Run,
Had settled the hash of a dozen and one!

The Cavalry Horse.

The cavalry horse is quite as familiar with the long lists of varying trumpet signals as the rider himself; he stops instantly when the signal for halting is sounded; passes from a walk to a trot, from a trot to a gallop, without requesting any reminder from spur or rein. If his rider fall in battle, or lose his stirrups, he stops in a moment and waits for him; if he remain lying on the ground, he stoops his head, smells at him, and when he ascertains that there is no hope of his remounting, makes his way to his troops wedges himself into his place in the ranks, and shares afterwards in the movements of the rest. Music has an amazing influence over him. If an air be suddenly struck up you will see the worn out and mortally tired horse raise his sick head, prick up his ears, become animated, and move briskly forward to the front.

During a halt, or when quartered for the night the cavalry division streched out on the ground, lies sleeping confusedly together, a jumbled mass, which it would be impossible to disentangle man and horse side by side, the rider using his horse as a pillow, or rolling himself beside it to shield himself from the cold, the faithful creature seldom changing the position it has once taken. If it did so, it is with the greatest precaution; first it moves its head and legs, endeavoring gently to free itself; then it raises or turns itself very slowly or carefully, so as not to trample upon or disturb those who surround it. If the halt takes place when the ground is wet or frozen, the rider will gladly force his horse to one side after it has lain down awhile, which by that time is warm, if not dry.

The most affectionate relationship subsists between man and horse, as the result of their thus living together. The animal seems to understand everything connected with his rider; he knows his master's step, his peculiar ways; knows how to seek him out from among others; is a faithful, disinterested companion and friend to him, and has this advantage over many another good comrade—that he does not grow weary even of suffering for him.

AN ORDINANCE to amend an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to amend an Ordinance to prevent the running at large of Dogs, and to authorize the destruction of the same in a summary manner, passed July 22, 1854," passed July 28, 1858.

The Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville do ordain as follows:

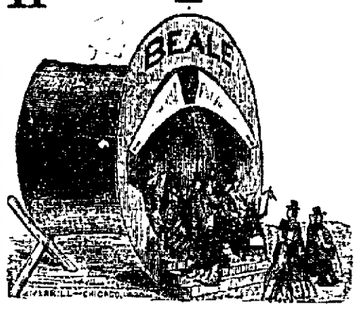

SECTION 1. Section two of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to amend an ordinance to prevent the running at large of Dogs, and to authorize the destruction of the same in a summary manner, passed July 22, 1854," passed July 28, 1858, is hereby amended by adding thereto as follows: And the Mayor of said city of Janesville shall have power, and he is hereby authorized, to appoint such person or persons as he shall deem necessary for the purpose of carrying into effect this ordinance.

SECTION 2. Section three of said ordinance is hereby amended by inserting after the word "constable" and before the word "shall" in the first line of said section the words, "and every person appointed by the Mayor of said city."

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.
Passed June 20th, 1864.
JOHN MITCHELL, Mayor.
Attest: G. H. WILLISTON, City Clerk. 783jydoew3w

STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors of this justly esteemed and well-known brand of Stomach Bitters, do not deem it necessary, in order to give their goods a fictitious, or even an enhanced value, to take a fling at all other Bitters, and proclaim in small capitals that they are worthless. Our Bitters do not need this, as we place them before the public on their merits, and invite your careful attention to the goods we allow our brand upon, knowing as we do so, that our reputation is at stake. The name, "Red Jacket," is taken from the original compound by the native child of the forrest, and with the addition of a few herbs by Dr. Chapin, made more agreeable to the taste, they have now a peculiarly healthy, soothing and recuperative influence, especially for the patient rising from the bed of sickness, loss of appetite, distress after eating, dizziness, and all diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Indigestion.
They strengthen and invigorate the system.
They are unequaled for general debility.
They are a sure cure for dyspepsia.
They give a good and healthy appetite.
They assist digestion.
They are the best stimulant in existence.
They are a sure preventive of Fever and Ague.
They relieve constipation.
They cure Nervous Headache.
They are perfectly pure and palatable.
They make the debilitated strong, and restore to strength the exhausted.
Aged persons and delicate females will find they can save large doctor's bills by the use of these Bitters.

LIST PRICE OF DRY GOODS IN THE

CITY OF NEW YORK.

We clip the following from the New York Journal of Commerce, of the 4th inst. And our private advices since, quote a still further advance of from 1 to 3c per yard:

"Prints of all descriptions are higher. No Merrimacs are coming forward at the moment. Cochecos have sold at 25c net. Pacifics are out of the market. Sprague's have sold at 26c and now ask 27c. American prints 23c without discount. Raw cotton firm at $1.25@ per lb. this day. Standard sheeting reached 61½c."

Great Sale of

DRY GOODS!

—BY—

M'KEY & BRO.,

Ending 10th Day of July.

Notwithstanding the above great advance, we have determined to dispose of our present immense stock of goods at old prices.
Good Madder Prints at 20c. All our best brands consisting of Dunnels, Pacific, American and many other perfectly fast colors, at 25c per yard.
We will also sell a good brown full yard width sheeting at 37½c. Some brown shirtings as low as 20c.
We have on hand at present the largest and best selected stock of

LADIES' DRESS GOODS

ever purchased by us, which we offer at old prices. English Bareges at 12½c per yard, and many other styles of Dress Goods as low as common prints
A splendid line of

CLOAKS AND SHAWLS,

at old prices. 100 pieces Ladies' Cloth in Black and Fancy colors, very low; in some cases 3 shillings per yard less than New York prices of this date.

5,000 PARASOLS

just received, in silk and linen covering.

2,000 Pairs Ladies' and Misses' Boots and Shoes,

which we will sell at as low profits as any goods in the store.
50 pieces Black and Solid Color Dress Silks.
4-4 Black Silk for Mantles.
Although Silks have advanced 50 to 75c per yard since we made our purchases, still we shall for the present sell without any advance.
We expect to receive in a few days a large amount of table linen, Irish shirting linen, Embroideries, and many other goods direct from manufacturers in Belfast, Ireland, purchased and paid for long before the 50 per cent. extra tariff, and the great advance in gold
Owing to the advance in the season, we now offer our entire stock of

Ladies' & Misses' Hats & Bonnets

at a great reduction in order to close them out; also Ribbons, Flowers and ornaments, and all other Summer Goods in like proportion.
We have on hand a large line of

CLOTHING,

consisting of Gents' and Youths' Clothing, Linen Goods in every style and quality.

Hats, Caps & Furnishing Goods,

which we have reduced from our usual prices to close out.

Carpets, Carpets, Carpets.

We have also on hand 500 pieces of Carpets, Mattings and Oil Cloths, all purchased before the recent advance; some of which we guarantee to sell 1 shilling to 50c per yard less than New York wholesale prices to-day

We have no goods in stock but such as have been imported and purchased before the great advance in gold and foreign exchange, which adds so enormously to the value of foreign and domestic dry goods.

We have no goods in stock but what was purchased before the addition to duty, which adds so largely to the value of merchandise, so we can afford to sell goods at almost half the prices which must be paid in the east to market to-day.
Bear in mind we shall only sell at these figures until the 10th of July next; by that time we shall commence buying our fall goods. Our

Mr. Robinson,

who has had an experience of 16 years exclusively as a buyer, has been permanently engaged by us for the purpose of purchasing goods for this House, and has just returned with a large lot of goods suitable for the present season Respectfully Yours,

GOTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to hear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystaline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.

THE LITTLE ZOUAVE.

[One little stocky fellow in the Fire Zouave regiment killed thirteen men in thirteen shots. He was afterwards killed himself.]

'Twas a little Zouave of the dreman sort,
His face powder blackened, his hair shingled short,
His brawny chest naked, his eyes flashing flame,
As over the red field of battle he came;
Then c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
And the great rebel army was lessened by one.

The batteries thundered, the cannon-balls flew,
The smoke and the dust hid the soldiers from view;
But whenever the cloud lifted up, you might scan
The little Zouave taking aim at his man.
Then c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
And put a quietus to some rebel's fun.

The day was a scorcher, the men were athirst,
And the little Zouave often fluently cursed;
But still he pressed on among shrapnel and shell,
And each time he fired an enemy fell;
For c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
And every shot told, on the dead list, for one.

The rebels, astonished, remarked, now and then,
"Them red-legged devils fight wuss'n our men,"
For they saw that no rebel and traitor could have
One quarter the pluck of the little Zouave:
So c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run,
Making holes in the rascals, to let in the sun.

Still forward, bare-breasted and spilling for fight,
The little Zouave battled well for the right;
Perhaps it was lucky he never could know
How our army received a repulse from the foe.
For c-r-r-rack! went his gun,
On the banks of Bull Run—
A Minie-ball came, and the Zouave was done!

There, prone on the field of his prowess he lay,
In the last fading light of the lingering day;
The wound in his forehead was ghastly to see,
But the little Zouave had done gloriously!
And his merciless gun,
On the shores of Bull Run,
Had settled the hash of a dozen and one!

The Cavalry Horse.

The cavalry horse is quite as familiar with the long lists of varying trumpet signals as the rider himself; he stops instantly when the signal for halting is sounded; passes from a walk to a trot, from a trot to a gallop, without requesting any reminder from spur or rein. If his rider fall in battle, or lose his stirrups, he stops in a moment and waits for him; if he remain lying on the ground, he stoops his head, smells at him, and when he ascertains that there is no hope of his remounting, makes his way to his troops wedges himself into his place in the ranks, and shares afterwards in the movements of the rest. Music has an amazing influence over him. If an air be suddenly struck up you will see the worn out and mortally tired horse raise his sick head, prick up his ears, become animated, and move briskly forward to the front.

During a halt, or when quartered for the night the cavalry division streched out on the ground, lies sleeping confusedly together, a jumbled mass; which it would be impossible to disentangle man and horse side by side, the rider using his horse as a pillow, or rolling himself beside it to shield himself from the cold, the faithful creature seldom changing the position it has once taken. If it did so, it is with the greatest precaution; first it moves its head and legs, endeavoring gently to free itself; then it raises or turns itself very slowly or carefully, so as not to trample upon or disturb those who surround it. If the halt takes place when the ground is wet or frozen, the rider will gladly force his horse to one side after it has lain down awhile, which by that time is warm, if not dry.

The most affectionate relationship subsists between man and horse, as the result of their thus living together. The animal seems to understand everything connected with his rider; he knows his master's step, his peculiar ways; knows how to seek him out from among others; is a faithful, disinterested companion and friend to him, and has this advantage over many another good comrade—that he does not grow weary even of suffering for him.

AN ORDINANCE to amend an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to amend an Ordinance to prevent the running at large of Dogs, and to authorize the destruction of the same in a summary manner, passed July 22, 1854," passed July 28, 1866.

The Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to amend an ordinance to prevent the running at large of Dogs, and to authorize the destruction of the same in a summary manner, passed July 22, 1854," passed July 28, 1866, is hereby amended by adding thereto as follows: And the Mayor of said city of Janesville shall have power, and he is hereby authorized, to appoint such person or persons as he shall deem necessary for the purpose of carrying into effect this ordinance.

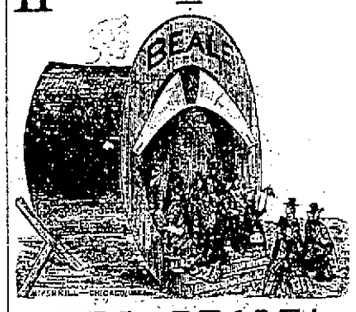

SECTION 2. Section three of said ordinance is hereby amended by inserting after the word "constable", and before the word "shall" in the first line of said section the words, "and every person appointed by the Mayor of said city."

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Passed June 30th, 1864. JOHN MITCHELL, Mayor.

STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors of this justly esteemed and well-known brand of Stomach Bitters, do not deem it necessary, in order to give their goods a fictitious, or even an enhanced value, to take a fling at all other Bitters, and proclaim in small capitals that they are worthless. Our Bitters do not need this, as we place them before the public on their merits, and invite your candid attention to the goods we allow our brand upon, knowing as we do so, that our reputation is at stake. The name, "Red Jacket," is taken from the original compound by the native child of the forrest, and with the addition of a few herbs by Dr. Chapin, made more agreeable to the taste, they have now a peculiarly healthy, soothing and recuperative influence, especially for the patient rising from the bed of sickness, loss of appetite, distress after eating, dizziness, and all diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Indigestion.
They strengthen and invigorate the system.
They are unequaled for general debility.
They are a sure cure for dyspepsia.
They give a good and healthy appetite.
They assist digestion.
They are the best stimulant in existence.
They are a sure preventive of Fever and Ague.
They relieve constipation.
They cure Nervous Headache.
They are perfectly pure and palatable.
They make the debilitated strong, and restore to strength the exhausted.
Aged persons and delicate females will find they can save large doctor's bills by the use of these Bitters.

LIST PRICE OF DRY GOODS IN THE

CITY OF NEW YORK.

We clip the following from the New York Journal of Commerce, of the 4th inst: "And our private advices since, quote a still further advance of from 1 to 3c per yard:
"Prints of all descriptions are higher. No Merrimacs are coming forward at the moment. Cocheco have sold at 28c net. Pacifics are out of the market. Sprague have sold at 26c and now ask 27c. American prints 23c without discount. Raw cotton firm at $1.25@ per lb. this day. Standard sheeting reached 51½c."

Great Sale of

DRY GOODS!

—BY—

M'KEY & BRO.,

Ending 10th Day of July.

Notwithstanding the above great advance, we have determined to dispose of our present immense stock of goods at old prices.
Good Madder Prints at 20c. All our best brands consisting of Dunnels, Pacific, American and many other perfectly fast colors, at 25c per yard.
We will also sell a good brown full yard width sheeting at 37½c. Some brown shirtings as low as 33c.
We have on hand at present the largest and best selected stock of ever received by us, which we offer at old prices.

LADIES' DRESS GOODS

English Barages at 12½c per yard, and many other styles of Dress Goods as low as common prints.
A splendid line of

CLOAKS AND SHAWLS,

at old prices. 100 pieces Ladies' Cloth in Black and Fancy colors, very low; in some cases 3 shillings per yard less than New York prices of this date.

5,000 PARASOLS

just received, in silk and linen covering.

2,000 Pairs Ladies' and Misses' Boots and Shoes,

which we will sell at as low profits as any goods in the store.
20 pieces Black and Solid Color Dress Silks.
4-4 Black Silk for Mantles.
Although Silks have advanced 30 to 35c. per yard since we made our purchases, still we shall for the present sell without any advance.
We expect to receive in a few days a large amount of table linen, Irish shirting linen, Embroideries, and many other goods direct from manufacturers in Belfast, Ireland, purchased and paid for long before the 50 per cent. extra tariff, and the great advance in gold.
Owing to the advance in the season, we now offer our entire stock of

Ladies' & Misses' Hats & Bonnets

at a great reduction in order to close them out; also Ribbons, Flowers and ornaments, and all other Summer Goods in like proportion.
We have on hand a large line of

CLOTHING,

consisting of Gents' and Youths' Clothing, Linen Goods in every shape and quality.

Hats, Caps & Furnishing Goods,

which we have reduced from our usual prices to close out.

Carpets, Carpets, Carpets.

We have also on hand 500 pieces of Carpets, Mattings and Oil Cloths, all purchased before the recent advance; some of which we guarantee to sell 1 shilling to 50c per yard less than New York wholesale prices to-day.

We have no goods in stock but such as have been imported and purchased before the great advance in gold and foreign exchange, which adds so enormously to the value of foreign and domestic dry goods.

We have no goods in stock but what was purchased before the additional duty, which adds so largely to the value of merchandise, so we can afford to sell goods at almost half the prices which must be paid in the eastern markets this day.
Bear in mind we shall only sell at these figures until the 10th of July next; by that time we shall commence buying our fall goods. Our

Mr. Robinson,

who has had an experience of 16 years exclusively as a buyer, has been permanently engaged by us for the purpose of purchasing goods for this House, and has just returned with a large lot of goods suitable for the present season. Respectfully Yours,

COTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystaline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION, to vote upon the question of raising money to pay bounty to volunteers.

WHEREAS, A petition has this day been presented to me signed by the following named electors and freeholders of the city of Janesville, to wit:

S. A. Hudson,	A. W. Parker,
A. P. Lovejoy,	J. C. Fredendall,
E. L. Dimock,	I. C. Sloan,
Jno. Mitchell,	J. M. Burgess,
E. S. Barrows,	S. H. Culver,
F. S. Eldred,	Amos P. Prichard,

requesting me to call a special meeting of the qualified electors of said city, to be held at the office of G. Nettleton, in the fourth ward of said city, at the earliest period authorized by law, for the purpose of voting to raise by tax the sum of thirty-two thousand dollars to be paid in sums of two hundred dollars to each person who may hereafter volunteer and be credited upon the quota of said city, or any of the wards thereof, under the last call of the President for five hundred thousand volunteers for the military service of the United States.

Now, therefore, by virtue of authority in me vested by the laws of the State of Wisconsin, I hereby give notice that a special meeting of the qualified electors of the city of Janesville will be held at the office of G. Nettleton, in the fourth ward of said city, on Thursday, the 28th day of July inst., for the purpose of voting to raise by tax the sum of thirty-two thousand dollars, to be paid in sums of two hundred dollars to each person who may hereafter volunteer and be credited upon the quota of said city, or any of the wards thereof, under the last call of the President for five hundred thousand volunteers for the military service of the United States. The polls will be opened at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and will continue open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Janesville, July 21st, 1864.

FURNITURE! FURNITURE!

N. SWAGER,

dealer and manufacturer of

Furniture and Cabinet Ware, will announce to the citizens of Janesville, Rock and adjoining counties, that he has on hand the largest and best selected stock of furniture that has ever been in Janesville, and notwithstanding the great rise in prices of labor, material, &c., he is not only able but determined to sell his immense stock of furniture for the next 60 days

Without any Advance in Price

over the old prices, though furniture has everywhere also advanced at least from 25 to 75 cents over the old rates, and as it may be believed that he, too, asks more for furniture than he did before, he will disprove this to every one who will call and examine his stock, as he is sure to give entire satisfaction to the most fastidious, both in regard to price, quality and beauty of style, which can not be surpassed here or elsewhere.

Among my numerous articles I can only mention Sofas, Tete-a-Tetes, Sofa, Mahogany, flag, Cane and Wooden Seat Chairs, Lounges, Marble Top, Center Card, Extension, Dining, Breakfast and Kitchen Tables Mahogany, Cherry and Black Walnut Bureaus of all kinds, Bedsteads of every description, Coffins of all sizes and trimmed in every variety of style constantly on hand.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE

Over the Post Office!

There is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY!

Who take pleasure in placing their machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantages of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stepping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a letter stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

Patent Medicines.

Good News for the Unfortunate!

THE LONG SOUGHT FOR

DISCOVERED AT LAST.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION!

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic cures all diseases of the urinary organs.

☞ It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

☞ It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gleet, Gonorrhea, Fluor Albus. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

☞ Price, Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

☞ Price, Cherokee Injection, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

CHEROKEE CURE!

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract, and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn case.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, DESPAIR NOT! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by Express to all parts of the world.

☞ For full particulars get a Circular from any Drug Store in the country, or write to the agent, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatise, in pamphlet form.

All blanks, as above, requiring both sides to be printed, shall be paid for by adding to the price bid by the contractor for printing on one side, 60 per cent.; but this addition will not apply to blank books with ruling and printing on both pages of each leaf. In case any labor is performed or any materials are furnished under the provisions of said chapter 315 of the laws of 1860, by the public printer, the price of which is not fixed by law, the regular "trade prices" for such labor or materials will be paid, after deducting so much per centum as, by the provisions of the contract, is to be deducted from the maximum prices established by law as aforesaid.

SPECIFICATIONS.

The prices per quire named in the foregoing list, for blanks and blank books, of the various sizes of paper and styles and binding, are to be taken as full compensation therefor, and to include composition, printing, binding, etc., as may be required. Twenty-four full sheets of the kind of paper ordered, will be demanded for a quire, without regard to the number of blanks to the sheet. The term "pasteboard binding" will be construed to mean pasteboard sides covered with colored paper, with sheep back and corners, and gilt title and the year in figures in printer's ink, on the back of the volume. And in respect to all the work to be done and materials to be furnished, the specifications, rules to computation, directions, and all and singular the provisions of chapter 315 of the laws of 1860, entitled as aforesaid will be considered as entering into and controlling any contract to be made for the state printing; and all bills for work or materials must be made out, filed, audited, and paid in strict conformity with the provisions of said act. Reference is therefore, particularly made to said chapter 315 for such further information as may be desired, copies of which will be furnished on application to the Secretary of state.

The style of work and quality of materials furnished, must be equal to the specimens on file in the office of the Secretary of State, which specimens, properly labeled, are kept for the inspection of bidders, and are by law made the standard criteria for the style in which the work shall be done, as well as for the quality of materials to be furnished by the contractor."

Bids must be substantially after the following

FORM OF BID.

I (or we,) —— of ——, in the state of ——, do hereby propose to do, at Madison, Wisconsin, all printing, (except the advertising and publication of the laws directed by chapter 240 of the laws of 1860, to be done in the "official state paper" therein designated,) and all binding, and to furnish all materials "authorized or required by the Legislature for its use, or for the use of the state in all the several departments thereof, including all blanks, blank books, circulars and every other kind of printing or binding for the offices of the Executive, School Land Commissioners, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney General, Bank Comptroller, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Supreme Court, Military, as well as every other department of state, or in any manner pertaining to them, or any of them, and all printing of whatsoever kind or description for which the state may be liable to pay," for the period of two years from the first day of January, A. D. 1865, according to the specifications, rules of computation, directions, conditions and requirements of chapter 315 of the laws of 1860, and of other existing statutes of the state of Wisconsin in respect to public printing—the style of work and quality of materials to be equal to the specimens which are kept in the office of the Secretary of State for the inspection of bidders, and are standard criteria for such style and quality—for —— per centum discount from the maximum prices established by chapter 315 hereinbefore cited. Such per centum discount to be uniform on every item of work and material.

Dated at ——, this —— day of ——, A. D. 1864.
—— —— [Seal.]
—— —— [Seal.]

Every bid must be accompanied by a written guaranty, signed by two or more responsible persons, to the effect of and substantially following this

FORM OF GUARANTY.

We, —— of ——, and —— of ——, in the State of Wisconsin, do hereby undertake and bind ourselves, our heirs, administrators and assigns, in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, that ——, bidders for doing the public printing and binding for the State of Wisconsin, and furnishing materials therefor, as set forth in the annexed bid, will, in case —— bid be accepted, enter into an obligation, within ten (10) days from the time of the acceptance of said bid, being the time prescribed by the commissioners, with good and sufficient sureties as required by law, to perform the service required as set forth in —— said bid, according to the requirements of chapter 315 of the general laws of 1860.

Witness, our hands and seals, affixed at ——, state aforesaid, this —— day ——, 1864.
—— —— [Seal.]
—— —— [Seal.]

Each guaranty must be accompanied by the certificate of a Judge of a Court of Record, or Clerk of such Court, certifying under his oath of office, and to his own knowledge, to the responsibility of the guarantors.

FORM OF CERTIFICATE.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, } ss.
County of ——,

I, ——, Judge (or Clerk, as the case may be,) of the Court in and for said county, do hereby certify, under the sanction of my official oath, that I am personally acquainted with —— and ——, who have executed the guaranty hereunto annexed, and that I know them to be men of property, and able to make good such guaranty.

In testimony whereof, I have caused the seal of said Court to be hereto affixed, this —— [L. S.] day of ——, A. D. 1864.
A—— B, Judge, (or Clerk,) &c.

No bid unaccompanied by the required guaranty and certificate thereto, will be considered by the Commissioners of Printing.

Proposals to be inclosed with guaranty and certificate, sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Printing," and delivered or mailed to the "Secretary of State, Madison, Wisconsin," in whose charge they will remain until the seventeenth day of August next. At 12 o'clock of said day, the bids will be publicly opened, and the contract awarded by the Commissioners for letting contracts for public printing.

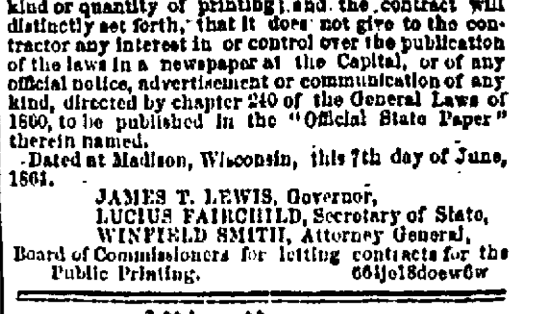

The person or persons whose bid shall be accepted, will be required, within ten (10) days after the acceptance of his or their bid, which time is hereby prescribed by the Commissioners, to make and enter into an obligation, with good and sufficient sureties in the sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000), to perform the services required, as set forth in this advertisement, and according to law. The contract will require that all orders for printing (in the English language,) binding or materials, made through the Secretary of State, be executed promptly; and all printing required by general statute, be completed and delivered within the time required by the statute directing such printing. There will be expressly reserved in the contract the right of the Legislature to alter, repeal or amend any law now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted, directing any particular kind or quantity of printing; and the contract will distinctly set forth, that it does not give to the contractor any interest in or control over the publication of the laws in a newspaper at the Capital, or of any official notice, advertisement or communication of any kind, directed by chapter 240 of the General Laws of 1860, to be published in the "Official State Paper" therein named.

Dated at Madison, Wisconsin, this 7th day of June, 1864.

Pile Remedy.

PILES.

A SURE CURE.

Every body is being cured of this distressing disease by the use of Dr. Strickland's Pile Remedy.

Read what those say who have used it:

Mr. Charles W. Landram, of Louisville, and Mr. J. P. Hazarde, Cincinnati, Ohio, both were cured after using one pot of Dr. Strickland's Pile Remedy. They say they have tried everything but could obtain no relief, but one pot of Strickland's Pile remedy affected a perfect cure after suffering for many years with the worst kind of Piles. They recommend every one who is suffering to try it.

Sold by all Druggists, 50 cents per pot. Manufactured at No. 6 East Fourth St., Cincinnati, O. Ask for

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE

Over the Post Office!

There is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

COMPANY!

Who take pleasure in placing their machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantages of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a letter stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION!

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic cures all diseases of the urinary organs.

☞ It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

☞ It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gleet, Gonorrhea, Fluor Albus. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

☞ Price, Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

☞ Price, Cherokee Injection, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

All blanks, as above, requiring both sides to be printed, shall be paid for by adding to the price bid by the contractor for printing on one side, 50 per cent; but this addition will not apply to blank books with ruling and printing on both pages of each leaf. In case any labor is performed or any materials are furnished under the provisions of said chapter 315 of the laws of 1860, by the public printer, the price of which is not fixed by law, the regular "trade prices" for such labor or materials will be paid, after deducting so much per centum as, by the provisions of the contract, is to be deducted from the maximum prices established by law as aforesaid.

SPECIFICATIONS.

The prices per quire named in the foregoing list, for blanks and blank books, of the various sizes of paper and styles and binding, are to be taken as full compensation therefor, and to include composition, printing, binding, etc., as may be required. Twenty-four full sheets of the kind of paper ordered, will be demanded for a quire, without regard to the number of blanks to the sheet. The term "pasteboard binding" will be construed to mean pasteboard sides covered with colored paper, with sheep back and corners, and gilt title and the year in figures in printer's ink, on the back of the volume. And in respect to all the work to be done and materials to be furnished, the specifications, rules for computation, directions, and all and singular the provisions of chapter 315 of the laws of 1860, entitled as aforesaid, will be considered as entering into and controlling any contract to be made for the state printing; and all bills for work or materials must be made out, filed, audited, and paid in strict conformity with the provisions of said act. Reference is therefore, particularly made to said chapter 315 for such further information as may be desired, copies of which will be furnished on application to the Secretary of State.

The style of work and quality of materials furnished, must be equal to the specimens on file in the office of the Secretary of State, which specimens, properly labeled, are kept for the inspection of bidders, and are by law made the standard criteria "for the style in which the work shall be done, as well as for the quality of materials to be furnished by the contractor."

Bids must be substantially after the following

FORM OF BID.

I (or we,) ——— of ———, in the state of ———, do hereby propose to do, at Madison, Wisconsin, all printing, (except the advertising and publication of the laws directed by chapter 240 of the laws of 1860, to be done in the "official state paper" therein designated,) and all binding, and to furnish all materials "authorized or required by the Legislature for its use, or for the use of the state in all the several departments thereof, including all blanks, blank books, circulars and every other kind of printing or binding for the offices of the Executive, School Land Commissioners, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney General, Bank Comptroller, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Supreme Court, Military, as well as every other department of state, or in any manner pertaining to them, or any of them, and all printing of whatsoever kind or description for which the state may be liable to pay," for the period of two years from the first day of January, A. D. 1865, according to the specifications, rules of computation, directions, conditions and requirements of chapter 315 of the laws of 1860, and of other existing statutes of the state of Wisconsin in respect to public printing—the style of work and quality of materials to be equal to the specimens which are kept in the office of the Secretary of State for the inspection of bidders, and are standard criteria for such style and quality—for ——— per centum discount from the maximum prices established by chapter 315 hereinbefore cited. Such per centum discount to be uniform on every item of work or material.

Dated at ———, this ——— day of ———, A. D. 1864.

——— ——— [Seal.]
——— ——— [Seal.]

Every bid must be accompanied by a written guaranty, signed by two or more responsible persons, to the effect of and substantially following this

FORM OF GUARANTY.

We, ——— of ———, and ——— of ———, in the State of Wisconsin, do hereby undertake and bind ourselves, our heirs, administrators and assigns, in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, that ———, bidders for doing the public printing and binding for the State of Wisconsin, and furnishing materials therefor, as set forth in the annexed bid, will, in case ——— bid be accepted, enter into an obligation, within ten (10) days from the time of the acceptance of said bid, being the time prescribed by the commissioners, with good and sufficient sureties as required by law, to perform the service required as set forth in ——— said bid, according to the requirements of chapter 315 of the general laws of 1860.

Witness, our hands and seals, affixed at ———, state aforesaid, this ——— day ———, 1864.

——— ——— [Seal.]
——— ——— [Seal.]

Each guaranty must be accompanied by the certificate of a Judge of a Court of Record, or Clerk of such Court, certifying under his oath of office, and to his own knowledge, to the responsibility of the guarantors.

FORM OF CERTIFICATE.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, } ss.
County of ———,

I, ———, Judge (or Clerk, as the case may be,) of the Court in and for said county, do hereby certify, under the sanction of my official oath, that I am personally acquainted with ——— and ———, who have executed the guaranty hereunto annexed, and that I know them to be men of property, and able to make good such guaranty.

In testimony whereof, I have caused the seal of said Court to be hereto affixed, this ——— day of ———, A. D. 1864.

[L. S.] A——— B, Judge, (or Clerk,) &c.

No bid unaccompanied by the required guaranty and certificate thereto, will be considered by the Commissioners of Printing.

Proposals to be inclosed with guaranty and certificate, sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Printing," and delivered or mailed to the "Secretary of State, Madison, Wisconsin," in whose charge they will remain until the seventeenth day of August next. At 12 o'clock of said day, the bids will be publicly opened, and the contract awarded by the Commissioners for letting contracts for public printing.

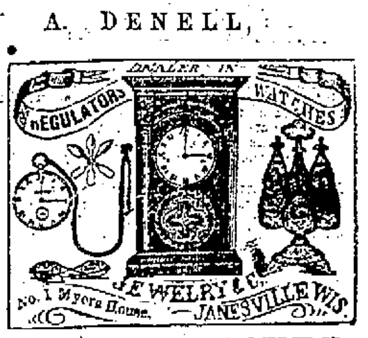

The person or persons whose bid shall be accepted, will be required, within ten (10) days after the acceptance of his or their bid, which time is hereby prescribed by the Commissioners, to make and enter into an obligation, with good and sufficient sureties in the sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000), to perform the services required, as set forth in this advertisement, and according to law. The contract will require that all orders for printing (in the English language,) binding or materials, made through the Secretary of State, be executed promptly; and all printing required by general statute, be completed and delivered within the time required by the statute directing such printing. There will be expressly reserved in the contract the right of the Legislature to alter, repeal or amend any law now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted, directing any particular kind or quantity of printing; and the contract will distinctly set forth, that it does not give to the contractor any interest in or control over the publication of the laws in a newspaper at the Capital, or of any official notice, advertisement or communication of any kind, directed by chapter 240 of the General Laws of 1860, to be published in the "Official State Paper" therein named.

Dated at Madison, Wisconsin, this 7th day of June, 1864.
